Weekly Newsletter

24th November 2023

As a school, we no longer set written tasks for homework. The best thing you can do to support your child's learning is to read with them at home. The research says your child should be reading 15-20 minutes, daily. It really can open the door to so many possibilities and empower your child to take on the world.

In addition to reading, we subscribe to many online learning APPs. If you have access to a device and WiFi at home, encourage your child to logon to TT Rockstars and Freckle. Both of these APPs will support your child's mathematical learning.

If your child does not know their login, or is not taking a reading book home, speak to their class teacher.

Thank you to everyone who donated and wore colourful t-shirts this Thursday. As a school, we are committed in celebrating and learning about neurodiversity. Being part of the ADHD foundation's umbrella project will support us in understanding neurodiversity even more. We will keep you updated on our progress with this.

We are very proud to announce that the hard work by Mrs Decker and Ms Aartse-tuyn paid off and Daven Primary School's entry to Congleton in Bloom came second place: highly commended.

If your child enjoys gardening, we have a gardening club at school. Keep your eyes peeled for when it is next half term, so you can secure your child's place.

School panto – 27th November

We can't wait to have the pantomime in school on Monday. The children have been learning the song in school and you can help by continuing to practise at home too.

Changes in year 2

Mrs Edwards will no longer class share alongside Mrs Bates. She will still be our school SENDCO and is working with another school in the trust as SENDCO too.

Mrs Bates will be the fulltime classroom teacher and will also become phase leader for Year 1 to 3. This means that Mrs Bates will no longer lead on behaviour.
