Have you read Fantastic Mr Fox by Roald Dahl?

Mr Fox lives happily with Mrs Fox and their little fox cubs in a cosy underground home. Every night, he sneaks out to get yummy food from three very grumpy farmers called Boggis, Bunce, and Bean. The farmers become so cross with Mr Fox that they try to catch him—but Mr Fox is clever, quick, and always one step ahead!

When the farmers dig up his home, Mr Fox and his animal friends work together on a brave plan to keep everyone safe and fed. With lots of teamwork, tricky tunnels, and clever ideas, Mr Fox shows that even a small animal can be a big hero.

There is also a fun screen version of the story—an animated film that brings Mr Fox and all his friends to life in a colourful, exciting way.

Why do I like reading? By Miss Allen

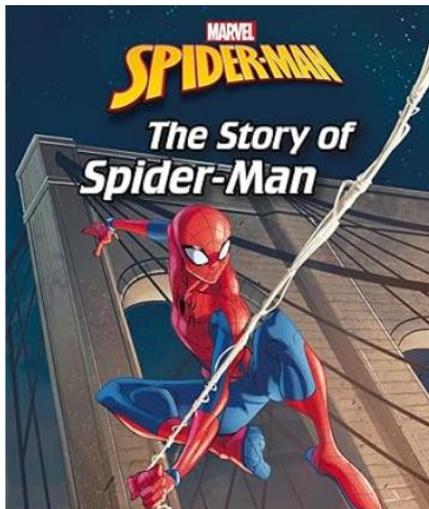

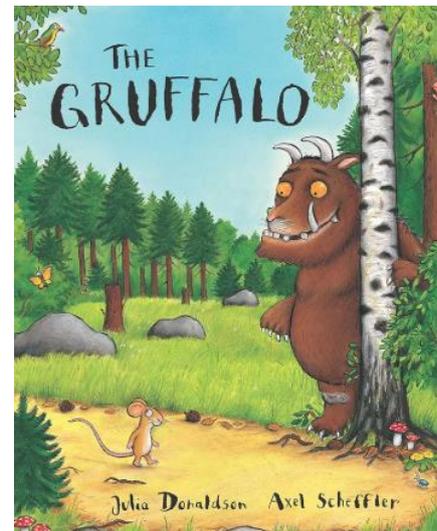

One of my greatest joys has always been reading for pleasure. As a child, my favourite author was Julia Donaldson; I adored her magical stories - especially Room on the Broom - and the wonderful illustrations that brought them to life.

My love for reading has only grown, and these days I enjoy a gripping thriller that keeps me on my toes. My current favourite author is Claire Douglas and I'm already on my fourth book of hers!

My favourite story is the Gruffalo. The Gruffalo gets scared of the little mouse because he walks behind the mouse and it looks like the snake, owl and fox are scared of the mouse but it is a trick.

I like Spiderman books because Spiderman is my favourite superhero. In the books, Spiderman saves people, he webs and he climbs up walls when he needs to fight the bad guys.

My favourite story is Frozen. In the story, Anna wakes Elsa up at night time and they do downstairs. She turns the floor into ice and makes snow go everywhere. Then, she puts snow statues up for Anna to jump but she slips. It is a good adventure story.
