

Science is going well when....

- We become curious about the world-asking and answering our own questions
- We have fun whilst learning
- We are challenged to solve problems
- Our lessons are practical
- We get to make our own decisions during investigations
- We work well with others
- We learn scientific vocabulary and can use it in our work

January 2018