Attendance

Being in school is important to your child's academic achievement, wellbeing, and wider development. There is evidence to suggest that regular school attendance is a key mechanism to support children and young people's educational, economic and social outcomes.

Going to school regularly is very important as it will help your child to: Have better life chances and outcomes; develop social skills and confidence by making friends and socialising; and prepare for adult life by getting used to a routine.

Attendance during one school year	Equals this number of days absent	Which is approximately this many weeks absent	Which equals this many lessons missed
95%	9 days	2 weeks	50 lessons
90%	19 days	4 weeks	100 lessons
85%	29 days	6 weeks	150 lessons
80%	38 days	8 weeks	200 lessons

Packed Lunch Challenge!

Next week is Science week and if you have a packed lunch, then we have a challenge for you all! Help to cut down on waste by having a package-free lunch! Our sustainability ambassadors will be looking for the most environmentally-friendly lunchboxes and handing out rewards!
