Thank you all for your donations for Comic relief and thank you to Debbie, our cook, for the lovely red nose cakes she made for us.

The children had an enjoyable morning with Andy Tooze. Andy read some of his poems which the children acted out. The children also wrote their own poems. His books 'Green Shoots Rising', "The Poetry Bug," and "The Poetry Bug Strikes Again" are available to buy from Amazon.

You will have received an email today from Scopay requesting you to register. All parents, who will be placing orders and making payments, will need to register so that you can order and pay for your child's school meals, additional nursery hours (over funded hours) and to book in to after school care.

This will be going live on 17th April, so please ensure you have registered before the live date. Do not pay any monies just yet, I will let you know when this has been finalised for use.

Tempest Photography are coming to school Tuesday morning (21st March) to take school photos of the children. We look forward to seeing the children looking smart in their school uniform. These photos will be offered for sale to parents. If you do not wish your child to be photographed, please let the office know. Thank you.

Welcome to our student teacher Miss Foice who will be in KS2 class for the next couple of months.
