

Deep in the Amazon rainforest

As Tepui wandered deeper into the rainforest, he experienced wondrous sights. When Tepui entered the rainforest, he saw wonderful plants and a humming bird chirping a beautiful tune. As Tepui went to a crystal clear river, a vicious caiman, which was like a giant shredding machine ate his prey quickly.

As the jaguar stealthily crawled, he padded silently which made him camouflaged like a Gecko, and pounced up on his poor prey.

High in the canopy, a rainbow coloured parrot squawked at a cheeky monkey. A capuchin monkey heard the parrot squawking at him so he scampered down from the canopy.

By Hayden