

Deep in the Amazon rainforest

As Tepui wandered into the rainforest, he experienced wonderful sights. He saw a scarlet macaw which streaked the sky red and green.

A Toucan nipped his ear. A jaguar pounced at an unexpected prey which was a fly. A bright green tree frog was sat on a lily-pad bouncing. A boa constrictor whipped around a tree and hissed. A jaguar growled at an unsuspected prey again. This time it was a snake. A vicious fox came and ripped a piranha in half. He heard a snake hiss in his ear. A caiman, who had razor sharp teeth and jagged spikes on its back, jumped out of a pond. A yellow and spotted jaguar growled in the distance.

By Zak H