How Can I Help my Child with Reading?

Ways to Support your Child with Reading:

- Listen to your child read at least twice a week (choose a quiet place).
- Give your child time to correct any mistakes he/she makes.
- Help your child to sound out unknown words.
- Ask your child questions about the story. For example: Why do you think she did that? How must he be feeling?
- Encourage, encourage, encourage – tell your child what a brilliant reader he/she is!
- Read to your child. Use facial expressions and tone of voice to show them how much fun reading can be!
- Be a good role model (read books/magazines/newspapers). Perhaps you could try reading some teenage fiction yourself – it is more engaging for adults than you may think!

"I love books.

I love that moment when you open one and sink into it, into a story that's way more interesting than yours will ever be.

Elizabeth Scott

Some Ways to Read with your Child:

- Read the parts of different characters in a play script (this could easily be a whole family activity).
- Whilst reading a story, take it in turns to be the characters/narrator or read one paragraph each.
- Pick a story from a newspaper/magazine to read out loud to each other.

Some Popular Reads:

- The Hunger Games by Suzanne Collins
- The Mortal Instruments by Cassandra Clare
- Uglies by Scott Westerfield
- The Fault in Our Stars by John Green
- Wonder by R J Palacio
- Noughts and Crosses by Malorie Blackman
- Millions by Frank Cottrell Boyce
- The Worst Thing About My Sister by Jaqueline Wilson
- Series of Unfortunate Events by Lemony Snicket
- Skellig by David Almond

The more that you read,
the more things you will know.
The more that you learn,
the more places you'll go.
-- Dr. Seuss
