Dear Parent/Carer,

Confirmation of timings of school day from September 2025

This letter is a follow-up to my letter sent at the start of February including details of changes that we are making to the school day at Ada Lovelace, Ealing Fields and William Perkin. These changes will be in place from the start of the new academic year in September 2025. The schools' Local Governing Bodies have now approved these changes following meetings of their Student Committees last week.

The new school day timings will be:

- Students must be in school no later than 8.30am.
The school gates are open at least 15-20 minutes before this to allow students to arrive in plenty of time for a punctual start.
- There will be 6 teaching periods during the main school day.
- The main school day will end at 3.10pm Monday – Thursday.
Students will be dismissed at this time unless they are staying in school for part of the extended day (period 7) offer.
- The period 7 offer will include wider learning (such as Music and Sport clubs), intervention and study support sessions, or taught lessons for some students (for example for additional GCSE courses for some students in Years 10-11). Period 7 will end at 4.00pm.
- On Friday, the schools will continue to have an earlier finish time for students to allow time for staff training. The school day on Friday will end at 2.20pm

Details of lesson and break timings are on the next page of this letter. As part of these changes in the school day there may also be some changes to the way each school structures its timetable (for example, the way setting is arranged).

Further details of the efficiency savings we are having to make, including a set of Frequently Asked Questions are available here on our website. We remain confident that, despite these slight reductions in the school day, our careful planning and close collaboration between the 4 schools in the Trust, we will be able to sustain our exceptional standards.

Yours sincerely,
