Thank You to Sue who has restarted Craft Club for the winter period. This year, joined by fellow volunteer, Teresa. The school really appreciates you both giving up your free time to share your crafty skills & expertise with our children, who – in their inaugural session this year – made pinecone mobiles! Wonderful.

School Council

Some really interesting data fed up from the councillors on behalf of their classes regarding preferences around potential school trips. Children will hear the results in class next week and as a staff, we will reflect on this data to inform our decision making.

Next up: Christmas, and with any free time you have on the last day, what would you like to do children? Our trusty councillors will capture your views/provide options next week.

Learning Highlights of the Week

Highlight Antony:

Antony Class began the week learning about Remembrance Day, they showed respect when observing the 2-minute silence and in the afternoon made poppies. Duck in the Truck has been a popular book this week and has supported children's learning across the curriculum: planning the resources needed to retell the story, identifying rhyme, making predictions, extending vocabulary, drawing and writing linked to the text.

Highlight Wenzel:

Wenzel Class have shown real maturity in several lessons this week. The children had very thoughtful comments and questions about Remembrance on Monday. Linked to WW2, we learnt about the life and missions of Krystyna Skarbek, Britain's first female spy; she skied, parachuted, escaped prison... and disguised a secret map as a hair bow! We enjoyed sending some secret agents from Wenzel on quests around school, to see if they could return with accurate information. Krystyna Skarbek is one of the famous people we have studied in our current book - How to be Extraordinary. As part of Anti-Bullying Week, we talked about what it means to bully or be a bystander and why it is important to choose respect instead, through kind words, gentle hands and including others.

Highlight Larwood:

This week in Larwood Class, we have been honing our skills using direct speech, writing a scene of dialogue between Buzz and Woody from Toy Story, as well as adapting a chapter of Dog Man. We have also been cooking this week, following a recipe in DT to create a delicious apple crumble!

Highlight Rauf:

During Anti-Bullying Week, Rauf Class showed great maturity and thoughtfulness as they engaged in activities aimed at raising awareness about bullying. The children took time to reflect deeply on how bullying can impact an individual and, discussing the emotional and psychological effects it can have on those involved. They also explored ways to prevent bullying, focusing on kindness and respect. It was inspiring to see the class come together with such empathy and determination to create a supportive and inclusive environment for all.
