Active Learning Trust: Behaviour Review: Feedback

Whether it was your words of good luck to the Team; the emails you took time out of your day to write, or giving your time to give such considered feedback to our reviewers, we truly appreciate and value your partnership. Thank You, parents. Here's some extracts from the report; I am happy to discuss any of this with you in person if you would value further discussion:

Key Strengths

- Strong ethos: students feel supported & challenged, underpinned by a powerful, and palpable, sense of belonging
- Parents spoken to were overwhelmingly supportive and positive about student behaviour, and genuinely value the partnership with the school that has been forged; amongst the range of provision that they appreciate, highlights include the weekly celebration assemblies, communication, the school's caring ethos and the focus on rewards
- Pupils showed a clear understanding of the school's behavioural approach, and were unanimously supportive of it; they spoke eloquently and with genuine conviction about their pride in the school and appreciation of the values on which the school is run
- At break and lunch-time students are well supervised, with a strong range of activities available; student leadership is strongly evident as part of this provision
- The whole-school assembly was a joyful, inclusive opportunity to strengthen belonging and to share and highlight the high standards of behaviour that is seen across the school

Recommendations

- Continue to monitor and strengthen the consistent application of the school's approach
- Continue to prioritise staff training and development to deepen understanding of the school's behavioural approach.
- Review the strategy for managing student behaviour to ensure that all students including those with higher levels of need are effectively supported and challenged.

FOES School Lottery – are you signed up?

Message from FOES:

Did you know that FOES are part of a school lottery?

The school lottery is held weekly with a guaranteed winner from our school each week. The more people who play, the bigger the prize pot and the more money the school makes. Over the last year the lottery has raised just under £1,000 for our school which can make a big difference to the resources we can buy and the projects we can support- all of which directly benefit your children. Again, the more people who play the more the school raises! So please feel free to get family and friends involved as well. To find out more and sign up please go to:

Learning Highlights of the Week

Antony Highlights:

Antony Class have been finding out about Chinese New Year. The children listened to the story of The Great Race, discovering why the Chinese zodiac is named after 12 animals. They have learned about how families get ready for and celebrate Chinese New Year. 2025 is the Year of the Snake.

Wenzel Highlights:

This week in English, the children put their imaginations to work, writing an exciting sequel to Lost in the Toy Museum! They planned a surprise party for Bunting, dreaming up new adventures, unexpected twists, and wonderful celebrations. From secret party plans to spectacular toy-filled fun, their stories were full of creativity and excitement!

Larwood Highlights:

This week in Larwood Class we have loved finding out about the incredible events of Pompeii! We learned how the town was both destroyed and preserved by the erupting Vesuvius, and looked at some of the incredible finds historians have made. We have also really enjoyed reading our class novel, Podkin One Ear, which we are incredibly close to finishing - the drama is really hotting up!

Rauf Highlights:

Our history learning was the highlight this week. Whilst learning about Germany after World War I, children made excellent connections with previous topics. It was fantastic to see them develop their knowledge and think critically about its significance. There were many deep and thoughtful discussions, including a range of insightful questions which demonstrated an excellent understanding of the key historical concepts. We certainly have some budding historians!
