What is Unauthorised Absence ?

Sometimes a pupil is genuinely too ill to attend school or there may be a family emergency. Such absences are allowed by law.

Unless there is a genuine reason for absence, pupils are required by law to attend school, everyday.

If you are the parent of a child who is of compulsory school age, (5 years or older) but who fails to attend regularly, you are guilty of an offence.

What to do if your child is absent?

It is the parent's responsibility to inform school on the first day of their child's absence.

Please pop in the school, call or send a letter, or tell your child's class teacher.

Verbal explanations from brothers or sisters are not accepted.

Parents need to provide evidence for their child/children being absent for more than one day.

Evidence can be in the form of:

- Letter from the doctor.
- Copy of the prescription with the child's name printed on.

If your child/children is absent and you do not contact the school, the absence would be regarded as unauthorised.

Punctuality

It is important that your child/children arrives at school in good time.

Registration is an important part of the school day.

Frequent lateness can result in the loss of a considerable amount of learning time and this can seriously disadvantage your child.

Being late adds up to a loss of learning.

If you are 5 minutes late every day that adds up to over 3 days lost each year.

15 minutes late every day adds up to a loss of 10 days.

30 minutes late is the same as being absent for 19 days each school year!

at 5 to 9!

Remember school starts

Be on time

at five to nine

Facts and Figures

We would like all of our children to aim for 100%. Full attendance means that no learning time has been lost. Even a short absence can have a negative impact on learning.

95% attendance means – 9 days absent

90% attendance means – 20 days absent

85% attendance means – 29 days absent

If a child has missed out on many lessons, they will inevitably fall behind with their work and it is often difficult to catch up at a later date.

It is important therefore, that children are encouraged to establish good attendance habits at the start of each school year.

Every day your child is absent it impacts on their education, possible life chances and opportunities in the future.

Attendance

Attendance Target for 2022 – 2023

National Average – 96%

School Target - 96%

To achieve these targets, your child/children must have a good attendance record.

We consider attendance of less than 95% to be poor.
