1 Introduction

Every person in our school community has been made in the image of God and is loved unconditionally by God. Everyone is equal and we treat each other with dignity and respect. Our school is a place where everyone should be able to flourish in a loving and hospitable community. Each person in their unique difference should be able to thrive.

Eastry Church of England Primary School is committed to valuing diversity by providing equality of opportunity and anti-discriminatory practice for all children and families. We also value our staff and are committed to good employment practice.

Eastry C of E Primary School seeks to ensure that no member of the school community, or any person through their contact with the school, will receive less favourable treatment on the grounds of a protected characteristic. These include: race, colour, nationality, ethnic or national origin, religion or belief, gender, marital status, responsibility for children or other dependents, disability, sexual orientation, gender reassignment, age, trade union or political activities, socio-economic background, living situation, or spent convictions.

In this we include all members of the extended school community – pupils, staff, governors, parents / carers and others from our local community. Partners, contractors and other visitors to the school are also expected to adhere to this policy.

2 Legal Framework

In putting in place this Single Equality Scheme in the form of our Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy, we are responding to our obligations under the Equality Act 2010.

This policy has been devised to enable Eastry C of E Primary School to meet its general duty in:

- Eliminating unlawful discrimination, harassment, victimisation and other prohibited conduct
- Advancing equality of opportunity between those who have a protected characteristic and those who do not
- Fostering good relations between those who have a protected characteristic and those who do not

We do this by:

- Providing a secure environment in which all our children can flourish and in which all contributions are valued.
- Including and valuing the contribution of all families to our understanding of equality and diversity.
- Providing positive non-stereotyping information about gender roles, diverse ethnic and cultural groups and people with disabilities.

- Reviewing our knowledge and understanding of issues of anti-discriminatory practice, promoting equality and valuing diversity.
- Making inclusion a thread that runs through all the activities of Eastry C of E Primary School

3 Aim

Equality and Diversity is about making a difference to the lives of the people we serve, treating all people with dignity and respect, and recognising the value of each individual. We are committed to ensuring that our services meet the varied and individual needs of children in our school, that our employment practices are fair and promote equality and that we respect the wide variety of lifestyles and cultures, locally and nationally.

We aim to prepare children and young people for living within a diverse society with increasing global connections and controversial issues.

We work hard to build strong and trusting relationships with our pupils and their families in order to harness their engagement and enjoyment in all aspects of school life. We recognise that pupils and family members may experience a range of different needs during different times in their lives and we endeavour to meet these needs by working in close partnership with relevant agencies, where applicable.

4 Our Ethos

Eastry C of E Primary School is a welcoming and caring community of children, staff, Governors and Parents / Carers. Together we continually strive to provide a happy and supportive environment in which the unique potential in every child is realised. Our vision is that within a creative curriculum, we will enable each child to share the responsibility for becoming independent and confident learners and achievers in a continually changing world.

5 Guiding Principles

The following principles have been drawn from a specimen school policy for equalities prepared by Nottinghamshire County Council and have been fully endorsed and accepted by Eastry C of E Primary School.

Principle 1: All learners are of equal value

All learners and potential learners are of equal value and benefit equally from school policies, practices and programmes, whatever their ability, ethnicity or national identity, religious background, gender or cultural identity.

Principle 2: Relevant differences are recognised

Treating people equally can mean treating them differently in order for them to be included. Policies, practices and programmes do not discriminate, but may be differentiated to take account of differences of life experience, outlook and background, and in the kinds of barriers and disadvantage which people may face, in relation to:

- Disability – so that reasonable adjustments are made
- Ethnicity – so that different cultural backgrounds and experiences of prejudice are recognised
- Gender – so that the different needs and experiences of girls and boys, and women and men, are recognised
- Religion, belief or faith background
- Sexual identity

Principle 3: We foster positive attitudes, relationships and a shared sense of belonging

Policies and programmes promote:

- Positive attitudes towards disabled people, good relations between disabled and non-disabled people, and an absence of harassment of disabled people.
- Positive interaction, good relations and dialogue between groups and communities different from each other in terms of ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status, and an absence of prejudice-related bullying and incidents.
- Mutual respect and good relations between boys and girls, and women and men, and an absence of sexual and homophobic harassment.

Principle 4: Staff recruitment, retention and development

Steps are taken to positively promote equality, especially where there is evidence of inequality and to ensure that policies and procedures benefit all employees and potential employees in recruitment, professional development and promotion:

- Whether or not they are disabled.
- Whatever their ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status.
- Whatever their gender and sexual identity, and with full respect for legal rights relating to pregnancy and maternity and paternity.

Principle 5: Reducing and removing inequalities and barriers that already exist

In addition to avoiding or minimising possible negative impacts of policies and programmes, we take opportunities to maximise positive impacts by addressing, reducing and removing inequalities and barriers that already exist between:

- Disabled and non-disabled people.
- People of different ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds.
- Girls and boys, women and men.

Principle 6: Policy development involves widespread consultation and involvement

Where necessary and possible, people affected by a policy or programme are consulted and involved in the design of new policies and in the review of existing ones. Such consultation is both direct and through representative organisations, and is based on principles of transparency and accountability. It involves those who in the past have been excluded or disadvantaged, and who continue to face barriers:

- Disabled people as well as non-disabled people from a range of ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds.
- Both women and men, and girls and boys.
- Lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender or queer +.

Principle 7: Society as a whole benefits

Policies and programmes benefit society as a whole, locally, nationally and internationally, by fostering greater cohesion and greater participation in public life for:

- Disabled people as well as non-disabled.
- People of a wide range of ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds.
- Both women and men, girls and boys.
- People who identify as lesbian, gay, bisexual or transgender.

Principle 8: We base our practices on sound evidence

We maintain and publish quantitative and qualitative information in our Accessibility Policy about our progress towards greater equality in relation to:

- Disability.
- Ethnicity, religion and culture.
- Gender.

Principle 9: Objectives

We formulate and publish specific and measurable objectives in our Accessibility Policy, based on the evidence we have collected and published in relation to:

- Disability.
- Ethnicity, religion and culture.
- Gender.

We recognise that the actions resulting from a policy statement such as this are what make a difference.

We regularly review our equality objectives.

The curriculum offered at Eastry C of E Primary School encourages children to develop positive attitudes about themselves as well as to people who are different from themselves.

Equality and diversity is embedded as far as possible in all areas of the curriculum and pupils are given opportunities to explore prejudice and discrimination, and to positively understand differences in relation to race / ethnicity, religion / belief, gender / sexuality, disability.

We do this by:

- Recognising the different learning styles of children, making appropriate provision within the curriculum to ensure each child receives the widest possible opportunity to develop their skills and abilities.

- We recognise the specific assessment needs of pupils with additional needs such as those on the Pupil Premium Register, those with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities and those with English as an Additional Language.

- Events and meetings are arranged to ensure that all families may become involved in the life of the school if they wish.
- Information about events and meetings is communicated in a variety of ways (e.g. electronically, written and verbal), to ensure that all parents / carers have information about, and access to them.

6.6 Employment

- Posts are advertised and all applicants are judged against explicit and fair criteria.
- Applicants are welcome from all backgrounds and posts are open to all.
- The applicant who best meets the criteria is offered the post, subject to references and checks by the Criminal Records Bureau – this ensures a fair selection process.
- All job descriptions include a commitment to equality and diversity as part of their specifications.
- We monitor our application process to ensure that it is fair and accessible.
