Free event for teachers

We're offering a free event for teachers across primary and secondary schools and academies on Wednesday 12 June in Cleethorpes with one place available per school.

The Heritage Schools programme is delivered by Historic England as part of a range of cultural education work funded by the Department for Education.

Historic England want every child to be inspired by their local heritage and every teacher to have brilliant resources to use inside and outside the classroom. Our Local Heritage Education Manager (East) for Historic England, Kate Arygle, will deliver the introduction session on the Heritage Schools programme on 12 June in Cleethorpes.

Further details on the national programme can be found here: Education | Historic England and Local Heritage Curriculum Planning | Historic England.

The agenda for 12 June is:

- Welcome from Create North East Lincolnshire
- Overview of the Townscape Heritage Project
- An introduction to the Heritage Schools Programme: How to discover your local heritage through historic maps and aerial photos workshop
- Heritage Lincolnshire: overview and the Watkin Project
- Natural Heritage: managing the internationally important Cleethorpes coastline

Each session will have a presentation and practical activities that you can try and/or take back to the classroom/school to use in your lessons.

Shake, Rattle & Read is a music & movement session for 0-5 age group

Lincs Inspire and the Educational Team for Hearing and Vision have collaborated to offer a new session specifically for babies, toddlers and children with a hearing or vision loss.

The sessions consist of songs and rhymes, accompanied by movement and dancing using sensory props such as scarves, tap sticks and pom poms. Babies enjoy the sounds and the touch of the different toys, awakening their senses. They watch the older children who with gentle encouragement from their care givers navigate rhythms and develop motor skills. It's a fun and lively session which cumulates with our big teddy, who is well loved by all, in a calming story time. Children learn basic social interaction and structure, helping to prepare them for their transition into nursery/school settings.
