EYFS	In the Early Years Foundation Stage, children develop foundational artistic skills through a range of planned and continuous opportunities. Through mark-making, modelling, collage, and practical making activities, children begin to capture their experiences and responses, creating simple representations of events, people, and objects. As they experiment across different artistic disciplines, they learn to select colours, media, and techniques for a purpose, applying what they have learned in increasingly original and thoughtful ways. These rich creative experiences enable children to represent their own ideas, thoughts, and feelings through art, establishing a strong foundation for progression into Key Stage 1.
