Geography – Europe– Year 4 Autumn Term (KS2)
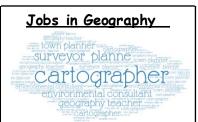

Prior Learning:
United Kingdom Y2
Continents Y2

Key Vocabulary I understand
Continent
Capital City
Physical Feature
Human Feature
Regions
Adjoining
Latitude
Longitude
Equator
Tropics

Jobs in Geography

Map of Europe

Europe is a continent located entirely in the northern hemisphere, and mostly in the eastern hemisphere.

Europe Facts

Largest European Countries (km2)
1. Russia   3, 900,000 km²
2. Ukraine   603,628 km²
3. France   551,695 km²
4. Spain   498,468 km²
5. Sweden   450,295 km²

There are 46 countries in Europe, although 2 are only partially in Europe
Most of Russia and Turkey are in Asia.

Comparison of location

	Human Feature	Physical Feature
Location (UK)	Stonehenge is a prehistoric monument located in Wiltshire, UK. contains a ring of stones about 4m high. It is estimated to have been constructed sometime between 2000 and 3000 BC.	Ben Nevis highest peak in Scotland, UK 1344m Snowdon highest peak in Wales 1085m Scafell Pike England 977m
Location (wider world)	The Eiffel Tower is possibly the most well-known manmade structure in Europe. Situated in Paris. It is the most visited paid monument in the world, with 6.9 million visitors per year.	The Alps are the highest mountain range that lies within Europe. They separate Southern Europe from Western and Central Europe and stretch for about 1,200km. The highest mountain is Mont Blanc (4,810m). They are a popular location for alpine skiing.

Key Learning
- Location of UK within Europe
- Capital cities of European countries
- Location of Europe within continents
- Know the difference between physical and human features
- Name physical features of Paris
- Name human features of Paris
- Know regions of France and their features
- Understand lines of latitude and longitude
- Know the difference between terms Equator, tropic of Cancer, Capricorn

Can I ?

Name the capital cities of France, Germany, Spain

Name a region in France known for it's beaches.

Name 3 human features Paris is famous for.