

The film competition is back!

Do you love dinosaurs?

Think you can create a prize winning film?

Then have a go at our competition!

All you need to do is create a short film (up to 2 minutes long) based on dinosaurs, the Jurassic era, fossils anything you like...

Your film should be factual but use your imagination and go wild! You could use Lego, cartoons, stop motion, toys, you could narrate it yourself or add subtitles, film in the garden using props to create a documentary, there are endless possibilities!

If you would like to enter, please give your entry on a USB stick to Mr; Strickland or email it to competition@fairfieldprimary.co.uk by Friday 2nd March along with £2 entry money.
