On Monday a blue bird looked up and said, "Look, the moon is blue!"
He flew up to the blue moon but it was too high.

The next day he flew up to the moon again, but then a huge wind blew him back down to the ground. The blue bird felt unhappy.

On Wednesday, a cute little little mole came along and said, "You need to use a balloon to fly up to the moon!"

So the gloomy blue bird went to a shop, taking the cute little mole with him. They got a huge new balloon and they flew very high! The wind blew but the huge new balloon was good and strong and the flew all the way to the moon.
