End of Academic Year Reports

We would like to inform you that your child's report will be presented slightly differently than in previous years. Our previous mechanism for report writing was carried out through an IT system called School Pupil Tracker Online (SPTO). Unfortunately this system is no longer an option for report writing as SPTO shut this system down at the end of May 2019. We have therefore formatted a new report template and look forward to circulating your children's reports in due course.

Parking Outside School

Hopefully everyone will have noticed our lovely new road signs on the bend outside the Infant entrance. I am however astonished that people are still parking on the double yellow lines between the signs. These signs do not indicate parking bays! Parking on double yellow lines endangers your children's lives. It also prevents access to school for any emergency vehicles. Mr Rollason, Mr Glasgow and myself spend time every morning and evening putting the signs out and collecting them in. I do not think that this is a worthwhile use of our time if people ignore them. The message you are giving your children is that it is ok to openly and blatantly cause obstruction and danger outside school. The only people that fall outside of the above are disability badge holders, but it still poses a danger to children around the school (and these are your own children). Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Information

We are welcoming our new Reception children into school this week for the start of our induction process.

Today, our new Penguin class spent the morning with Miss Clover and Mrs Lucas. On Wednesday Mr Meakin and Mrs Ankers will meet their new Kangaroos and on Thursday Mrs McComish and Mrs Hewitt will welcome the new Meerkats. Induction packs have been given to all new parents which contain the staffing structure for September 2019. However, we would like to make all of our current families aware that we are saying goodbye to a few of our staff at the end of this year. Miss Parsons is leaving to join Brays special school as Assistant Head Teacher and Mrs Price and Mrs Caley are retiring and beginning new adventures! Further information will follow.
