Love Laugh Learn in God's World

Term One

Spirituality	British Values	Christian Value: Respect	Christian Value: Thankfulness
Through the historical study of life in Tudor times, children will look at the difference in lifestyles between rich and poor, and link to the worth of self and others. Learning about Tudor life can enhance spirituality by helping us reflect on how people in the past expressed their faith, faced challenges, and found meaning in their daily lives. This will develop empathy and compassion, linking to the choices and decisions that historical figures had, alongside the choices that they will make in their own lives. Through PSHE, we will look at the effect of our choices and decisions on others. RE links into this also, as we look at the importance of Holy books to people of faith. Our Class novel highlights the impact of rivalry and the good that can be achieved working together,	Democracy is a theme that is covered within our class novel, alongside individual liberty. Children will be encouraged to put themselves into the position of the characters and think carefully about what decisions they would make, and why. Listening to the views of others and tolerating differing stand points will be a key aspect of class discussion. In our history work, the lack of democracy in Tudor times, and its effects, are explored. RE activities will be looking at Christianity and other faiths, promoting tolerance and mutual respect. The Rule of Law will be highlighted during Picture News sessions, as well as touched on in History, PSHE and the class novel.	Respect is at the heart of our worship this term. We will look at what respect means and how it can be shown. This understanding can be translated and explored within History, reflecting on the choices and decisions made by Tudor monarchs, and their effect on other people. In our science work, in how electricity is used and how it needs to be respected. PSHE work will be focussed on ‘Me and My Relationships’, focusing on taking ownership of our decisions and thinking carefully about how our choices affect others. Our work on Fitness and Dance within our PE units will encourage the respect of other people’s ideas, talents and efforts.	We will explore the value of thankfulness through our understanding of God as creator, through PSHE where we will see ourselves as being created in God’s image and showing our thankfulness by doing His work through showing kindness and compassion to all. In RE where we see that the similarities of faiths mean we can live together and embrace difference. In our science work, the wonder of electricity and what it can help us achieve is celebrated. Our PE session will allow us to be thankful for our bodies and what we can achieve when we put in our best efforts.
