Dear Parents/Carers

Next week in school we will be recognising Eid and the end of Ramadan. Celebration is one of our school values and we feel it is important to help our children understand and celebrate events that are important to different members of our community.

Ramadan is a time for reflection, doing positive things for others and, for many people, going without. Abby will be leading an assembly in school to remind pupils of this, and we will be following this up with some simple activities during the week.

On Monday we will have Good Deed Day. We will be encouraging the children to do something kind for someone else. This might be for a friend, a family member or someone in school. You might like to talk to your child about what kind thing they could do.

On Tuesday we will be thinking about the idea of going without. This links to the fasting that many people take part in during Ramadan. Classes may choose something small to go without for the day and talk about resilience and self-control. If you would like to join in at home with your child, you are very welcome to.

On Wednesday we will focus on reflection. Children will be encouraged to think about things they are grateful for, kind things they have done for others, or things they would like to improve. We'll also have a special Eid menu.

You may wish to talk about these ideas at home or even take part as a family. Small acts of kindness, thinking about others and taking time to reflect are valuable lessons for all of us.

Kind regards
