

Effulgence

(noun)

-radiant splendour: brilliance.

ETYMOLOGY: Effulgence derives from the Latin verb fulgēre, which means "to shine." From Latin ex- ("out of, from") and fulgere ("to shine")

Sentences containing the word 'Effulgence' in different forms:

- The fire died down, marked only by a brief effulgence of a glowing ember.
- Dawn was near and the stars had lost their effulgence.
- The effulgence of the sun lit up the glorious lake.

French translation:
rayonnement.

Synonyms:

- Radiance
- Lustrousness
- brilliance

Antonyms

- Dimness
- Gloominess
- Somberness