Class teachers

We ensure that teachers have the skills that they need to teach the range of SEND in their class through teacher training and professional development using in-school and external professional development. Where more specific intervention is required, staff are trained to deliver evidencebased interventions to support children in reading, writing and maths.

Staff receive training from external professionals so that they can meet the needs of individuals within their class. Recent training has included Autism Education Trust, school nurse medical needs training and Attention Autism.

Teaching assistants (TAs)

We have a team of 13 TAs, including 1 higher-level teaching assistants (HLTAs) who are trained to deliver SEN provision.

All teaching assistants are train to deliver interventions which are appropriate for the key stage they work within. Across the school various interventions are delivered, some of the interventions delivered las year include; catch up and keep Little Wandle phonics (In EYFS, KS1 and KS2), Attention Autism, Welcomm Speech and Language, SPARKs (gross and fine motor), reading comprehension, times tables, maths fluency.

Inclusion Team

The school has 2 learning mentors, both who are Emotional Literacy Support Assistant (ELSA) trained. They work alongside the school's family worker. All three members of staff work alongside children and teacher to support the emotional, social and mental well-being. Interventions delivered by the team include; ELSA, drawing and talking, memory boxes.

External agencies and experts

In addition to using our staff expertise, we sometimes need extra help to offer our pupils the support that they need. Whenever necessary we will work with external support services to meet the needs of our pupils with SEN and to support their families. These include:

- Speech and language therapists
- Educational psychologists
- SEMH outreach team
- ASD / SCIN outreach time
- Hearing Impairment Advisory teacher
- Visual Impairment Advisory teacher

3. What should I do if I think my child has SEN?

If you think that your child might have SEN, please book a meeting with the Class Teacher to talk about your concerns.

If you think your child might have SEN, the first person you should tell is your child's teacher. (You can speak to your child's teacher at the start or end of the day or speak to the school office and they will arrange a meeting for you.

They will pass the message on to our SENCO, Becky Thompson, who will be in touch to discuss your concerns.

You can also contact the SENCO directly.

We will meet with you to discuss your concerns and try to get a better understanding of what your child's strengths and difficulties are.

Together we will decide what outcomes to seek for your child and agree on next steps.

We will make a note of what's been discussed and add this to your child's record. You will also be given a copy of this.

If we decide that your child needs SEN support, we will formally notify you in writing and your child will be added to the school's SEND register.

4. How will the school know if my child needs SEN support?

All our class teachers are aware of SEN and are on the lookout for any pupils who aren't making the expected level of progress in their schoolwork or socially.

If the teacher notices that a pupil is falling behind, they try to find out if the pupil has any gaps in their learning. If they can find a gap, they will give the pupil extra support in class to help to close the gap. Pupils who don't have SEN usually make progress quickly once the gap in their learning has been filled.

If the pupil is still struggling to make the expected progress, the teacher will talk to the SENCO, and will contact you to discuss the possibility that your child has SEN.

The SENCO may observe the pupil in the classroom and in the playground to see what their strengths and difficulties are. They will have discussions with your child's teacher, to see if there have been any issues with, or changes in, their progress, attainment or behaviour. They will also compare your child's progress and development with their peers and available national data.

The SENCO will ask for your opinion and speak to your child to get their input as well. They may also, where appropriate, ask for the opinion of external experts such as a speech and language therapist, an educational psychologist, or a paediatrician.

Based on all of this information, the SENCO will decide whether your child needs SEN support. You will be told the outcome of the decision.

If your child does need SEN support, their name will be added to the school's SEN register, and the SENCO will work with you to create an Individual Pupil Profile for them.

5. How will the school measure my child's progress?

We will follow the 'graduated approach' to meeting your child's SEN needs.

The graduated approach is a 4-part cycle of assess, plan, do, review.

As a part of the planning stage of the graduated approach, we will set outcomes that we want to see your child achieve.

Whenever we run an intervention with your child, we will assess them before the intervention begins. This is known as a 'baseline assessment'. We do this so we can see how much impact the intervention has on your child's progress.

We will track your child's progress towards the outcomes we set over time and improve our offer as we learn what your child responds to best.

This process will be continual. If the review shows a pupil has made progress, they may no longer need the additional provision made through SEN support. For others, the cycle will continue and the school's targets, strategies and provisions will be revisited and refined.

6. How will I be involved in decisions made about my child's education?

We will provide annual reports on your child's progress.

Your child's class/form teacher will meet you during parents evenings to:

- Set clear outcomes for your child's progress
- Review progress towards those outcomes
- Discuss the support we will put in place to help your child make that progress
- Identify what we will do, what we will ask you to do, and what we will ask your child to do

The SENCO may also attend these meetings to provide extra support.

We know that you're the expert when it comes to your child's needs and aspirations. So we want to make sure you have a full understanding of how we're trying to meet your child's needs, so that you can provide insight into what you think would work best for your child.

We also want to hear from you as much as possible so that we can build a better picture of how the SEN support we are providing is impacting your child outside of school.

If your child's needs or aspirations change at any time, please let us know right away so we can keep our provision as relevant as possible.

After any discussion we will make a record of any outcomes, actions and support that have been agreed. This record will be shared with all relevant staff, and you will be given a copy.

If you have concerns that arise between these meetings, please contact your child's class teacher, you can either speak to them on the playground at the start and end of the day, or speak to a member of office staff for them to arrange with the class teacher a time to meet with you.

7. How will my child be involved in decisions made about their education?

The level of involvement will depend on your child's age, and level of competence. We recognise that no 2 children are the same, so we will decide on a case-by-case basis, with your input.

We may seek your child's views by asking them to:

- Attend meetings to discuss their progress and outcomes
- Prepare a presentation, written statement, video, drawing, etc.
- Discuss their views with a member of staff who can act as a representative during the meeting
- Complete a survey

8. How will the school adapt its teaching for my child?

Your child's teacher is responsible and accountable for the progress and development of all the pupils in their class.

High-quality teaching is our first step in responding to your child's needs. We will make sure that your child has access to a broad and balanced curriculum in every year they are at our school.

We will adapt how we teach to suit the way the pupil works best. There is no 'one size fits all' approach to adapting the curriculum, we work on a case-by case basis to make sure the adaptations we make are meaningful to your child.

These adaptations include:

- Adapting our curriculum to make sure all pupils are able to access it, for example, by grouping, 1-to-1 work, adapting the teaching style or content of the lesson, etc.
- Adapting our teaching, for example, giving longer processing times, pre-teaching of key vocabulary, reading instructions aloud, etc.
- Adapting our resources and staffing
- Using recommended aids, such as laptops, coloured overlays, visual timetables, larger font, etc.
- Teaching assistants will support pupils in small groups or 1:1 during lessons when the teacher has identified that they may need additional support to understand the learning or be supported to engage in an appropriate learning activity which matches the child's learning needs.

We may also provide the following interventions:

Overview of interventions (This is not an exhaustive list of support and interventions that are provided at Gorse Hill)
Area of Need	Intervention
Communication and Interaction	What's in the Bucket/Attention Autism TEACCH Workstation Intensive interaction Visuals (including timetable/checklists) Colourful semantics Welcomm Speech and Language Communication Boards 1:1 / small group speech therapist interventions Adapted curriculum and timetable to meet specific needs

9. How will the school evaluate whether the support in place is helping my child?

The Head Teacher, SENCO and the leadership team regularly monitor and evaluate the quality of provision for all pupils. The SEND Governor meets regularly with the SENCO to ensure the school is following the SEND Policy and review of the progress and outcome of SEND learners.

We will evaluate the effectiveness of provision for your child by:

- Reviewing their progress towards their learning outcomes each term
- Reviewing the impact of interventions after 6 -8 weeks
- Using pupil questionnaires
- Monitoring by the SENCO and subject leaders

- Using provision maps to measure progress
- Holding an annual review (if they have an education, health and care (EHC) plan)

10. How will the school resources be secured for my child?

When needed, and through consultation and support from the appropriate outside agency professional service, additional equipment and/or facilities will be sourced for children. These resources will be dependent on the need of the child, and the school will work hard to remove any physical barrier to learning and gather equipment necessary to support access to the school and education. These resources could include noise cancelling headphones, writing slopes, pencil grip adaptations, use of ICT, reading frames etc. It may be that

If additional funding that exceeds the SEND allocated budget for an individual child, the school will meet with you to discuss the need for an application to the Local Authority to request additional funding.

11. How will the school make sure my child is included in activities alongside pupils who don't have SEND?

We are committed to giving all children at Gorse Hill every opportunity to achieve their potential. We have a whole school approach to inclusion which supports all learners to engage in activities together.

All of our extra-curricular activities and school visits are available to all our pupils, including our before and after-school clubs.

All pupils are encouraged to go on our school trips, including our residential trip in Year 6.

All pupils are encouraged to take part in all aspects of school life, including PE lessons, whole school assemblies and productions and workshops.

No pupil is ever excluded from taking part in these activities because of their SEN or disability and we will make whatever reasonable adjustments are needed to make sure that they can be included.

12. How does the school make sure the admissions process is fair for pupils with SEN or a disability?

In accordance with the Code of Practice, our school admissions policy requires children and young people with SEND to be treated fairly. No pupil will be refused admission to school on the basis of his or her special educational need. In line with the SEN and Disability Act we will not discriminate against disabled children and we will take all reasonable steps to provide effective educational provision in line with The White Horse Federation admissions arrangements and policy. Further information on the policy can be found here Admissions | The White Horse Federation

If your child has an EHCP, the Local Authority manage the admissions process and any changes in school placement. Please email SENDSERVICE@swindon.gov.uk to ask any questions regarding your child's school placement if they have an EHCP.

13. How does the school support pupils with disabilities?

At Gorse Hill School we ensure that pupils with disabilities are able to access the curriculum and school building and environment alongside their peers. We will ensure that steps are taken to prevent disabled pupils from being treated less favourably than other pupils. This will include us working alongside both parents and outside agencies professionals to identified the reasonable adjustments that we can put into place to meet your child's specific needs.

Necessary additional resources and equipment such as auxiliary aids and services will be sought. This is further referred to in our Accessibility plan

14. How will the school support my child's mental health and emotional and social development?

At Gorse Hill Primary School, we are committed to supporting the mental health and emotional wellbeing of our children and staff. We know that everyone experiences life challenges that can make us vulnerable and that at times we could all need additional support. We believe good mental health is everyone's concern and all of us have a role to play in supporting this. Our mental health and wellbeing policy sets out how we do this.

The school has a trained Senior Mental Health Lead and another suitably qualified member of staff who focus on intervention for pupils who require support with their social, emotional and mental health. They work closely with class teachers and the Leadership Team to offer additional support for children in class and in intervention.

We provide support for pupils to progress in their emotional and social development in the following ways:

- Pupils with SEN are encouraged to be part of the school council
- Pupils with SEN are also encouraged to be part of all clubs and extra-curricular activities in the school.
- We provide extra pastoral support for listening to the views of pupils with SEN with our ELSA's and inclusion team.
- We have a 'zero tolerance' approach to bullying. Our school's behaviour policy outlines the measures that we put into place to prevent bullying.

15. Does Gorse Hill School have an Inclusion Base?

The Willows Inclusion Base is Gorse Hill Primary School's provision for identified pupils with significant communication and interaction needs, including children with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) and related social communication difficulties. In line with our belief that Every Child Can, The Willows provides a highly structured, nurturing and inclusive environment for pupils whose needs require a greater level of support than can be provided through Quality First Teaching and reasonable adjustments within the mainstream classroom alone. The provision offers a personalised, autism-friendly curriculum that is tailored to each child's developmental stage, with a strong focus on communication, social understanding, emotional regulation, engagement, independence and life skills. Through carefully planned learning opportunities, pupils are supported to develop the confidence, skills and resilience needed to achieve positive outcomes and reach their full potential.

The Willows is an integral part of the Gorse Hill community and promotes meaningful inclusion alongside specialist support. Pupils remain connected to their year groups and House Teams and, where appropriate, access mainstream lessons, assemblies, trips, clubs and wider school activities. The calm, low-arousal environment incorporates predictable routines, visual supports, sensory resources and flexible teaching approaches to help pupils feel safe, regulated and ready to learn. Entry to the provision is determined through a collaborative assessment of need involving families, school staff and external professionals, ensuring that support is targeted appropriately. Progress is regularly reviewed and pupils are supported to transition successfully back into mainstream provision when they demonstrate the skills and independence needed to thrive with appropriate SEND support and reasonable adjustments.

16. What support will be available for my child as they transition between classes or settings, or in preparing for adulthood?

Between years

To help pupils with SEND be prepared for a new school year:

- Designated time for the children's current teacher to meet their new teacher to discuss their individual needs and the support that is needed
- When appropriate, additional transition sessions between a child and new teacher will take place during Term 6.
- When appropriate meetings will take place between parents, identified external professionals and the new teacher to ensure that individual needs and support required can be shared and discussed.
- If appropriate, we will provide opportunities for the child to see what their new environment will look like, they may take home a photographs of their new class and teachers.
- If appropriate, we will provide opportunities for the child to say goodbye to their current teacher

Between schools

When your child is moving on from our school, we will ask you and your child what information you want us to share with the new setting.

Between phases (for primary schools)

The SENCO of the secondary school will meet with Gorse Hill School's SENCO. They will discuss the needs of all the children who are receiving SEN support.

The SENCO will ensure that all SEN paperwork is shared securely and swiftly and that there is a sufficient handover. Many of the above strategies used to support between year transitions may also still apply for between school transitions. Where possible, the two schools will work together to organise visits and information sharing.

Pupils will be prepared for the transition by:

- Learning how to get organised independently
- Plugging any gaps in knowledge

17. What support is in place for looked-after and previously looked-after children with SEN?

Candida Hutchinson (Head Teacher) is the designated teacher for looked-after children and previously looked-after children here.

They will work with the SENCO, to make sure that all teachers understand how a looked-after or previously looked-after pupil's circumstances and their SEN might interact, and what the implications are for teaching and learning.

Children who are looked-after or previously looked-after will be supported much in the same way as any other child who has SEND. However, looked-after pupils will also have a personal education plan (PEP). We will make sure that the PEP and any SEN support plans or EHC plans are consistent and complement one another.

18. What should I do if I have a complaint about my child's SEN support?

If you are unhappy about the SEND provision made for your child, in the first instance you can speak to the class teacher. Then a meeting may be arranged with the SENCO. If the situation is not resolved, you can request a meeting with the Headteacher.

If you are not satisfied with the school's response, you can escalate the complaint. In some circumstances, this right also applies to the pupil themselves. For further guidance, please see the School's Complaints Policy

To see a full explanation of suitable avenues for complaint, see pages 246 and 247 of the SEN Code of Practice.

If you feel that our school discriminated against your child because of their SEND, you have the right to make a discrimination claim to the first-tier SEND tribunal. To find out how to make such a claim, you should visit: <https://www.gov.uk/complain-about-school/disability-discrimination>

You can make a claim about alleged discrimination regarding:

- Admission
- Exclusion
- Provision of education and associated services
- Making reasonable adjustments, including the provision of auxiliary aids and services

Before going to a SEND tribunal, you can go through processes called disagreement resolution or mediation, where you try to resolve your disagreement before it reaches the tribunal.

Further information on Swindon's disagreement resolution and mediation services can be found on Swindon's Local Offer.
