

My Targets or My Progress (Rocket)

On the My Targets tab, you can see your progress toward your reading targets. If you do not have targets, the tab's name is My Progress instead, and you will see your reading progress. This is the first tab that you see when you select Progress in Accelerated Reader or when you use Renaissance Home Connect.

Are you a parent? If your school makes the Get Email Updates link available at the top of the page, you can select it and choose to receive emails whenever your child takes Accelerated Reader quizzes or Star tests. You can also see your child's Star scores on the My Targets tab. To look up books that have Accelerated Reader quizzes, go to <https://www.arbookfind.co.uk> (UK) or <https://www.arbookfind.com.au> (Australia).

The targets and progress that you see are for the marking period that is happening now. A marking period may be a term or any time period that your school uses for targets. To see your progress for a different marking period, use the drop-down list to choose it. If you choose a past marking period, you will see whether you met your targets for that marking period.

The screenshot shows the 'Accelerated Reader' interface with the 'My Targets' tab selected. Under 'Your Progress', it states 'There are 78 days left in the marking period.' and shows a progress bar starting from '17 April 2023'. A 'Marking Period' dropdown menu is open, showing options: 'Autumn Term', 'Spring Term', 'Summer Term' (which is highlighted), and '2022-2023'. At the bottom left is the word 'Points' and at the bottom right is a link 'What Does This Mean?'.

Points

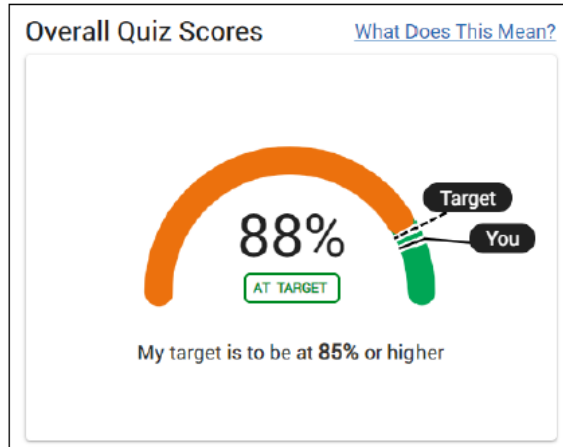

This screenshot is similar to the previous one but shows 'There are 77 days left in the marking period.' The progress bar now extends further, ending at '21 July 2023'. The 'Marking Period' dropdown is closed and shows 'Summer Term' as the selected option. The 'Points' label and 'What Does This Mean?' link remain at the bottom.

The rocket will fly through space, and you will see how many points you have earned so far by passing Accelerated Reader quizzes. If you need to make the rocket and clouds stop moving, select Stop Animation.

Overall Quiz Scores

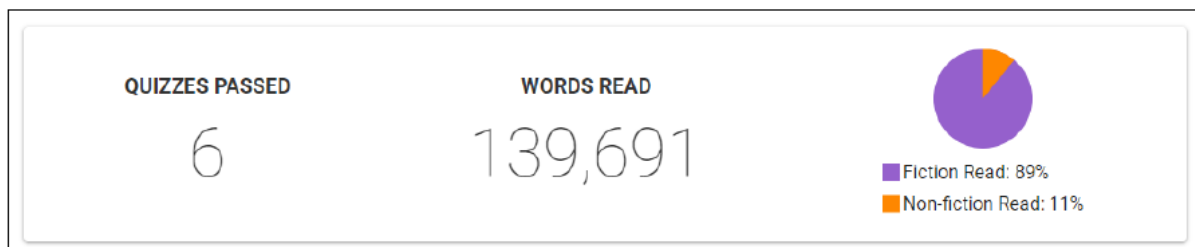

This graph shows you how well you are doing on quizzes overall (an average score for your quizzes). The more questions you answer correctly on quizzes, the better your overall score will be. The large number shows your overall score. Below your score, you will see whether your score is at or below your target and what your target is. The graph will also show you where the target is and where your score is.

In the example above, the student's target is 85%, and the student's average score is 88%, so the student's score is higher than the target.

About Your Reading

Below the graphs, you will see more information about your reading during the marking period.

Quizzes Passed shows you how many quizzes you have passed. This number includes any type of Accelerated Reader quiz that you have passed.

Words Read shows you how many words you have read based on the Reading Practice Quizzes and Article Quizzes you passed. When you pass a quiz, you get credit for all the words in the book or article.

Fiction Read shows you how much of your reading has been fiction (fiction stories are made up). This comes from the points you earn when you pass quizzes. Non-fiction Read shows you what percentage of your reading has been non-fiction. Non-fiction books and articles describe real events or information.

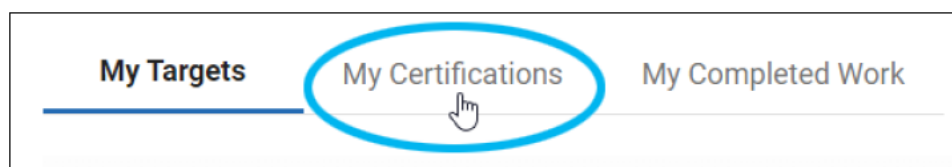

Star Unified Scores

If you have taken Star Reading and/or Star Maths tests during the marking period, you will see your latest score(s) at the bottom of the page. These are Unified scale scores.

Star Unified Scores
STAR Reading 1176	STAR Maths 1148

Other Progress

Click one of the other tabs to see more information about your work. If your teacher has set certification targets, you can see them on the My Certifications tab. The My Completed Work tab shows you the quizzes that you have taken.

Email Updates

If you are a parent using Renaissance Home Connect, and your school allows parents to sign up for email updates, you can select Get Email Updates to choose to receive emails when your child finishes a test or quiz. If the link is not on the page, the school has not made this feature available.
