Summary & follow-up

What are our greatest strengths?

The following themes stood out from the survey:

- Communication
- Additional help for children with Special Educational Needs
- The free breakfast club and wrap-around care
- Kind, friendly and helpful staff
- Being supportive and helpful of parents
- An engaging learning environment

What we could we improve?

The following themes stood out from the survey:

- Assembly where parents can attend – we will explore the possibility of parents being able to attend assemblies for RESPECT awards
- More homework – we currently feel that our homework approach of focussing on reading, spellings and basic maths facts is enough set homework. Next year we will publicise more the different website subscriptions that we have in school (such as Reading Plus and Times Table Rock Stars) so that parents are more aware of all the different practice that pupils could be doing at home
- More information about typical days in class and photos of work throughout the week – our new Instagram hopefully will show more of this
- More short, incidental positive messages – this is a great idea something we can work on next year
- Interim reports in Autumn and Spring – next year we will look to create a short interim report for pupil each term

Any other comments?

Thank you to everyone who has taught my boys. They have learnt so much in such a short space of time.

Amazing teachers always go above & beyond.

Staff are always happy and ready for the children arriving, my daughter goes in with no problems as she is comfortable with the staff.
