Did you know ... There is No automatic entitlement in the law to take time off school to go on holiday.

Taking holidays in term time will affect your child's schooling as much as any other absence. We expect parents to help us by not taking children away in school time.

What are the rules for taking children on holiday during term time?

By law, all children of compulsory school age must receive a suitable full-time education. You as the parent or carer, are legally responsible for making sure your children attend on a regular basis.

The Department for Education (DfE) provide information for schools as to what is acceptable and what is not with regards to absence. Examples of reasons that would not be accepted:

- ❖ A birthday
- ❖ A shopping trip/day trips
- ❖ Brother or sister is ill so all children in the family stay off school
- ❖ Not having uniform ready to wear or can't find shoes/coat etc
- ❖ A holiday in term time

If your child is going to be absent you must contact school between 8:30 am and no later than 9:30am to let us know the reason why.

If your child does not attend school on a regular basis, you may be fined or prosecuted in court.

“Evidence shows that pupils who have good attendance enjoy better wellbeing and school performance than those who don't... For most pupils, the best place to be during term-time in is school, surrounded by the support of their friends and teachers. This is important not just for your child's learning, but also for their overall wellbeing, wider development and their mental health.”
