

Eagle Class

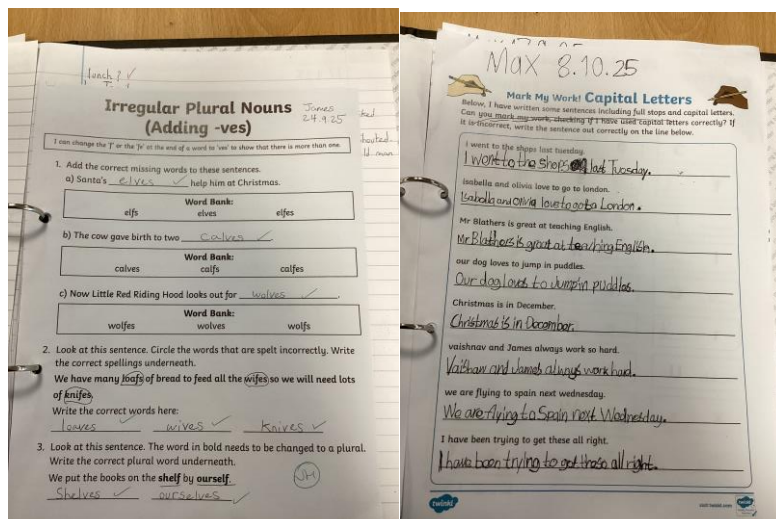

News

Summer term has come to an end for Eagle! It has been a whirlwind of learning, achievement and new experiences. Our students have been fantastic (as usual!) this term and our enterprise work has been a huge hit. We have delivered a fully functioning café and made good profits which will be going towards our Prom. Other areas of learning have been our work with MyFuture, learning them key skills of preparation for adulthood. We have worked with ORE project to design a new sculpture for Harlow Town and community visits have taught the students community safety and being confident in the community.

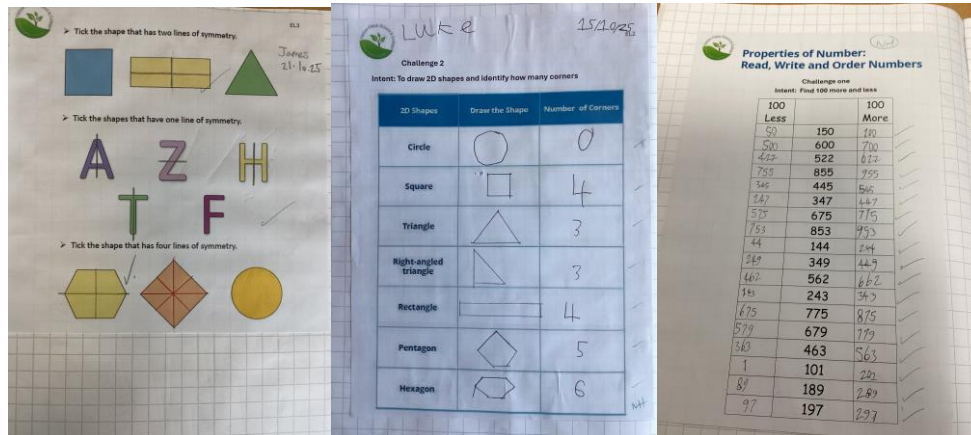

Literacy and Communication

In our English lessons, Eagle students have completed two schemes of work. They have started their formal speaking and listening presentations and videoed discussions. Also have completed weekly SPAG targets and a piece of work on Shakespeare Macbeth writing diary entries.

Maths

Eagle students have continued to work towards their Functional Skills Entry Levels in Maths. Students have covered Shape, Number and Statistics during this term. It was great to see the students apply them skills whilst in the community buying items from shops.

ASDAN

This term students have continued to work towards their ASDAN qualification Personal and Social Development for this academic year. In 'Using Technology in the Home and Community' students explored how technology has changed our lives for the better. They have identified how technology makes us safer in the community and have demonstrated this through practical community trips.

Work Experience

This term we have sadly seen our work experience officer Jules Davis leave, so work experience has looked slightly different for the students. On Fridays our students transition to the main site, alongside PE our students have been studying the theory side of employment but also demonstrating through café, social stories and supporting the maintenance team we continue to teach them skills for working life.
