

In Maths we are looking at place value. Can you create your own worksheet using worded maths problem questions based on the use of place value? Remember you can use words instead of numbers!

Can you create a book review on your favourite book? You could give reasons why you recommend it and include illustrations.

In PSHE, our focus is 'being me in my world'. Can you create a poster all about you? You could include your interests, hobbies, likes, dislikes and what makes you, you. You could even draw a portrait of yourself.

In Geography, we will be exploring South America. Can you choose one country in South America and compare it to the UK? You can create a fact file in the style of a booklet or PowerPoint presentation.
