'Atingerea Măreției Împreună'

„Nu e nici o rușine să cauți ajutor pentru sănătatea ta mintală” .

Dragi părinții și îngrijitori,

Recunoaștem că sănătatea mintală și bunăstarea sunt esențiale pentru toți. La Hillside, acest lucru îi ajută pe copii să învețe eficient, să facă față provocărilor de zi cu zi și să devină adulți tineri rezistenți. Există o serie de lucruri aici, la Hillside, pe care le facem pentru a sprijini sănătatea mintală și bunăstarea copiilor noștri. De exemplu, oferim informații și resurse pentru a face față mâniei, anxietății și depresiei și creem medii sigure și de susținere în care elevii se simt confortabil să discute despre sănătatea lor mintală și despre cum să susțină bunăstarea.

În acest trimestru, am introdus un sistem zilnic de verificare emoțională la școală și deja feedback-ul a fost cu adevărat pozitiv din partea copiilor. Acest sistem simplu ne permite să oferim rapid asistență suplimentară.

A face suficient exercițiu este, de asemenea, important pentru sănătatea dumneavoastră mentală și fizică. Săptămâna aceasta, am prezentat noul nostru orar al cluburilor. Mai multe informații la pagina 2.

Vă mulțumim pentru tot sprijinul dumneavoastră continuu! Este foarte apreciat.

Cele mai bune urări,

Doamna Wass

PE si Sport la Hillside!

Prezentarea Domnului Parnell

Domnul Parnell a început să predea în toată școala în această săptămână. De luni, 23 septembrie, va preda o varietate de cluburi înainte de școală și după școală la Hillside. Alfie a spus, „Abia aștept să încep la Hillside și să lucrez pentru a obține tot ce este mai bun din fiecare copil. Anterior, am lucrat mult cu copii din diverse școli și sunt specializat în educație fizică. Aștept cu nerăbdare să îi cunosc pe toți copiii și să obțin ceva din fiecare lecție de educație fizică și să îi ajut să obțină tot ce pot.”

Așteptăm cu nerăbdare să ne dezvoltăm punctele forte în educație și sport în acest an!

At The National College, our WakeUpWednesday guides empower and equip parents, carers and educators with the confidence and practical skills to be able to have informed and age-appropriate conversations with children about online safety, mental health and wellbeing, and climate change. Formerly delivered by National Online Safety, these guides now address wider topics and themes. For further guides, hints and tips, please visit nationalcollege.com.

10 Top Tips for Parents and Educators

SUPPORTING CHILDREN TO MANAGE CONFLICT EFFECTIVELY

Disagreement is a natural part of human interaction. This can seem particularly true when dealing with the sensitive issues that arise for secondary-aged pupils. This guide brings you 10 top tips which can help prevent conflicts arising or mitigate their impacts when they do.

1 INSPIRE RESPONSIBILITY

The best approaches to conflict resolution are restorative. This means that rather than adults imposing their own solutions on children who have had a disagreement, they should work with them, allowing them to decide if can feel empowered to young people and will hopefully teach them to manage their own disputes as they move towards adulthood.

2 ACTIVELY LISTEN

Remember to give every child the opportunity to voice their opinion, regardless of their age, stage of development, special educational needs, or other individual requirements. This can be done using a variety of different communication methods. For example, some children find it easier to express how they're feeling using pictures and drawings, while some prefer to write their ideas down.

3 BE CURIOUS

Demonstrating how to approach conflicts with a mature and empathetic mindset can set a good example to children, which can prove a useful skill for them later in life. Model this by asking inquisitive-yet-respectful questions about the issue at hand. Really try to understand where all parties are coming from, and share information between them when and where appropriate. This should encourage young people to meet your behaviour, leading them to be curious about the other side of a conflict, and thus being more willing to hear them out.

4 PROMOTE DIFFERENCES

Children and young people may come from a range of different backgrounds and cultures or have protected characteristics which may cause them to see things from various angles. Having a school and community culture which celebrates and embraces diversity in all things – including diversity of opinion – means people are more likely to feel heard and understood.

5 BE SUPPORTIVE

Discussions may be sensitive or, in some cases, even trigger negative emotions. Pupils may have mixed feelings about the issue at hand. They could be nervous or anxious before even coming to the table to talk about it. Try and create a space where all parties feel safe, welcome and comfortable. Allow breaks and time-outs if the conversation gets heated, to prevent anyone from saying something they might later regret.

6 MENTALLY PREPARE

Think of how you can approach the conflict in a calm and regulated manner. Consider taking some extra time to prepare beforehand and finding somewhere quiet to talk. Even if you're not directly involved with the conflict, mediating can be a stressful experience in its own right. Make sure you're hydrated, fed and comfortable, and do the same for the young people involved. There may seem like 'negotiation' factors, but it's important to remember that physical discomfort can trigger dysregulation, which can make it much harder to have a calm, productive conversation.

7 GET YOUR FACTS STRAIGHT

Make sure you have all the facts, figures and directions of the situation prior to the discussion. This should be done as objectively as possible with the aim of resolving the ongoing issue. You may want to risk assess any problems that may arise and look for possible solutions during your preparation time.

8 STICK TO THE POINT

Make the reason for, and purpose of, any meetings or communications clear prior to setting them up. Provide an agenda. Act as a neutral impartial person who can keep all parties on track. Make sure everyone has a chance to air their concerns about the issue being discussed and try to avoid talking about unrelated incidents. Close off with some action points, detailing what everyone can do to resolve the conflict.

9 BE SOLUTION FOCUSED

It's often said that the art of diplomacy is about giving others ladders to climb down. This means the main aim of any meeting or correspondence should be finding mutually acceptable and amicable solutions. Parents, carers, teachers and pupils should be aware there may need to be a compromise for the common good – and, most importantly, the good of the children you're supporting.

10 DON'T IGNORE OR AVOID CONFLICT

No one benefits from allowing concerns and grievances to fester, as this can lead to further division and mistrust, and ultimately doesn't help the children involved. See our tips to open meaningful lines of communication. These should help you find a suitable resolution and minimise the number of conflicts you're faced with mediating overall.
