

WEAR IT PINK DAY FRIDAY 18TH OCTOBER

Tomorrow is Wear it Pink Day. The day aims to raise as much money as possible to support research into breast cancer treatment and save more lives!

We will be hosting a bake sale from 11.30am - 1.30pm in the Dining Area and hosting a raffle with some fantastic prizes! One of these will be a signed Leeds Rhino shirt.

Many of you will know someone affected by breast cancer, so please help us by enjoying a cake and a chance to win some great prizes. You can of course also wear pink in support of the day!

LOVE OUR COLLEGES

Today at lunchtime you may see some of your teachers taking part in a peaceful demonstration at the front of College. This is national action and many colleges are taking part to call on Government to improve funding rates at post-16. You may remember us asking you to sign a petition to 'Raise the Rate'. Today's activity is part of HNC showing our support to this national campaign which is crucial in improving funding levels, which are in crisis.

This takes place during lunch, so no lessons will be affected. Funding is an important issue that affects our ability to do more for you. If you want to lend your support to this campaign take a look at #RaisetheRate on Twitter.

IN YEAR 13? LOOKING AT ALTERNATIVES TO UNIVERSITY?

If you are looking at your options, or are considering not going to university, then make sure that you register for our Apprenticeship Roadshow.

The launch event for this will take place on Monday 11th November at 12.15pm. This is your chance to find out about the Works Better Scheme with C&K Careers and explore the fantastic programme of activities and workshops being planned by the careers team for this academic year. All of this is to help you make the best choices you can.

You'll also be able to have your say about the sort of support you would like, and we will aim to provide talks and workshops in response to this throughout the year.

To reserve your place, email ben@huddnewcoll.ac.uk
