

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES FOR YOU

Welcome back! Our Year 12 students are continuing with guided online learning, whilst our Year 13 students are expected to undertake self-guided online learning, pursuing an area of interest or one that will support their next steps. There's some fantastic resources to help your studies or simply to explore a topic of interest, we've included a collection of these below for you:

- BBC4 has released a series of fascinating documentaries and resources, including Shakespeare's plays, insights into areas such as The Story of Electricity, Pain, Pus and Poison - a story about the search for modern Medicine and a Meet the Romans production - a great way to bring your studies to life or expand your horizons. Visit: <https://www.bbc.co.uk/schedules/p00fzl6b>

- National Geographic has launched NatGeo@Home. Whilst some of the activities are aimed at younger children and families, there's some great reads and watches to help you explore the world around you: www.nationalgeographic.com/family/at-home-education-resources/

- BBC Bitesize also has some great resources, including to support your mental well-being during this time. Although the A Level content is more limited, the GCSE content is brilliant if you are pursuing something new during this time, such as learning a new language: www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize

Your teachers will of course continue to support you during these times and direct your learning as appropriate. Now is however an ideal time to expand your horizons, so do take a look at some of these resources!

CLASS OF 2020 - YOUR YEARBOOK

Thank you to everyone who has sent in pictures for your yearbook - we're really enjoying seeing your pictures and reading your comments.

All of these will be collated into a yearbook just for you - so please help us to make it a success and a celebration of your time at HNC. Send your submissions to news@huddnewcoll.ac.uk

 @huddnewcoll

CARING FOR YOUR MENTAL HEALTH

It's really important that you care for your mental health during these times. Your Progress Tutor and Student Welfare remain contactable, but below we have shared a collection of resources and help specifically to support you.

Remember, if you are worried for your personal safety or immediate wellbeing you can contact the safeguarding team - safeguarding@huddnewcoll.ac.uk

Useful websites:

- kooth.com - free, safe and anonymous online support
- mind.org.uk/information-support/coronavirus-and-your-wellbeing

You can also text ChatHealth. You can receive advice on a range of matters, including emotional health and wellbeing, bullying, healthy eating, sexual health and any general health concerns. The number is 07520 618866 and is available Monday to Friday from 8.00am to 8.00pm

Careers

Applying for jobs or want some help checking an application? Our Careers team are here to help with all things Careers related - visit Moodle for full details

The University of Law are running virtual lectures and seminars - you can also ask your questions about studying Law. Email ben.burgin@huddnewcoll.ac.uk for details!

UCAS deadline extension. The UCAS deadline has been extended again to 18th June. Remember there is no immediate pressure to make your decision!

