

Holme Community School – Long Term Curriculum Planning

Subject	Religious Education	Cycle	A
---------	---------------------	-------	---

What themes/ golden threads weave through the curriculum?	The golden threads through our Religious Education curriculum are learning about religion, learning from religion and shared human experience.
Why were these themes chosen?	Religious Education prompts difficult questions about the ultimate purpose and meaning of life, beliefs about God, issues of right and wrong and what it means to be human. Therefore, through our themes we develop pupils' knowledge, understanding of and their ability to respond to religions presented in Great Britain. We explore issues within and across faiths, pupils learn to understand and respect different religions, beliefs, values and traditions and their influence on individuals, societies, communities, and cultures. Learning about Religion Children learn about a range of religions and beliefs fairly, not urging or converting pupils to a religion, promoting mutual respect, and understanding. Pupils learn about these religions and beliefs which have influenced people and the development of different human cultures. Developing their religious literacy is essential to understand the modern world. Learning from Religion Children learn from religion and understand that not everyone feels the same as them but appreciate other people's points of view, understanding why people think and behave differently and the impact that can have on society. Through learning from religion children can create their own thoughts on religion and how to respond to the world around them. Shared Human Experience This theme is our enquiry element to the subject which refers to experiences common to all human beings regardless of religious beliefs including love, loss, thankfulness, community etc. We support each pupil's personal search for meaning by engaging them in enquiry thinking by posing questions that often start each topic such as: What does it mean to look up to someone? What does it mean to belong? Is death the end?
What are the overall aims of this curriculum?	The aim of our curriculum is to explore, understand and respect the views and beliefs of other people to then reflect, question and analyse pupils' own ideas and way of living.
