OCR Technical Level 3 Business

Why should I choose Business?

OCR Technical Business has been designed to form a qualification that provides knowledge and understanding of this vocational area. Within the national qualifications framework their approach lies between the more general AS/A2 level in Business Studies and NVQ's in Administration Management. This is an ideal qualification for those students who want a broad background to the general business environment that will allow them to progress to further and higher education or employment.

What can I expect to learn?
