Year 4

		Apyses
English	Maths	Science
In English, children will be reading the story of, 'A	This term we will continue our learning on multiplication	In Science, the children will be learning about the Midsummer Night's Dream' by William Shakespeare. They	and division. The focus will also be reasoning skills and	Classification of Plants and Animals. They will be will be writing a play script as well as an alternative	number fluency through Number Talks and a variety of	introduced to the Classification definition and then ending and poetry. They will continue to focus on	starters for each lesson. The children will be able to solve a	continue to discuss and explore what animals can be learning the different features of grammar, spelling and	range of multi-step word problems and they will	classified under the different groups of vertebrates punctuation appropriate for these pieces of writing.	understand the steps involved in solving a problem. Once	and invertebrates. They will also cover plants secure, they will be moving to applying their knowledge of	classification and understand the main differences the four operations in Shapes and Measures.	within the different categories.
History	Physical Education (PE)	Music
In History, the children will study Greek life and	In PE, children will be training for the Sports Day events.	This term the theme for music is notation.Children achievements and their influence on the Western world.	They will be focussing on sprints and long distance	will focus specifically on the treble clef. We will
Children will look at City States and draw comparisons	running. They will also prepare for relay events like	practice recognising notes in the songs and draw between Athens and Sparta. Children will create a short	passing the baton and field events like throwing the	them on the stave. We will discuss other clefs in cartoon script to tell the story of a memorable part of the	javelin and discus. Children will be selected for the various	music.
Persian Wars. They will explain why Alexander the Great	events under their respective Houses.
is an important person in Greek history.	events under their respective houses.
Computing	Personal Social Health Education (PSHE)	Spanish
In Computing, the children will explore the concept of	Personal Social Health Education (PSHE)	In Spanish, the children will learn vocabulary to ropotition in programming using the Scratch	This term we will be focusing on relationships. The children repetition in programming using the Scratch	This term, we will be focusing on relationships. The children environment. Children will look at the difference between	will be focussing on how to keep themselves safe and	body. We will continue practising the linguistic focus:
environment. Children will look at the difference between count-controlled and infinite loops, and use their	will be focussing on how to keep themselves safe and respect everyone around them. They will look at basic first	body. We will continue practising the linguistic focus: gender, articles, plurals and adjectives. By the end of
environment. Children will look at the difference between count-controlled and infinite loops, and use their knowledge to modify existing animations and games	will be focussing on how to keep themselves safe and respect everyone around them. They will look at basic first aid skills and learn how to keep themselves safe in different	body. We will continue practising the linguistic focus: gender, articles, plurals and adjectives. By the end of this unit, the children will be able to describe an
environment. Children will look at the difference between count-controlled and infinite loops, and use their knowledge to modify existing animations and games using repetition. Their final project is to design and create	will be focussing on how to keep themselves safe and respect everyone around them. They will look at basic first aid skills and learn how to keep themselves safe in different situations. They will also learn about who they can speak	body. We will continue practising the linguistic focus: gender, articles, plurals and adjectives. By the end of
environment. Children will look at the difference between count-controlled and infinite loops, and use their knowledge to modify existing animations and games using repetition. Their final project is to design and create a game which uses repetition, applying stages of	will be focussing on how to keep themselves safe and respect everyone around them. They will look at basic first aid skills and learn how to keep themselves safe in different	body. We will continue practising the linguistic focus: gender, articles, plurals and adjectives. By the end of this unit, the children will be able to describe an
environment. Children will look at the difference between count-controlled and infinite loops, and use their knowledge to modify existing animations and games using repetition. Their final project is to design and create a game which uses repetition, applying stages of programming design throughout.	will be focussing on how to keep themselves safe and respect everyone around them. They will look at basic first aid skills and learn how to keep themselves safe in different situations. They will also learn about who they can speak to if they need help.	body. We will continue practising the linguistic focus: gender, articles, plurals and adjectives. By the end of this unit, the children will be able to describe an animal and a person.
environment. Children will look at the difference between count-controlled and infinite loops, and use their knowledge to modify existing animations and games using repetition. Their final project is to design and create a game which uses repetition, applying stages of programming design throughout. Art	will be focussing on how to keep themselves safe and respect everyone around them. They will look at basic first aid skills and learn how to keep themselves safe in different situations. They will also learn about who they can speak to if they need help. Religious Education (RE)	body. We will continue practising the linguistic focus: gender, articles, plurals and adjectives. By the end of this unit, the children will be able to describe an animal and a person. Geography
environment. Children will look at the difference between count-controlled and infinite loops, and use their knowledge to modify existing animations and games using repetition. Their final project is to design and create a game which uses repetition, applying stages of programming design throughout. Art In Art, children will learn about needlework, embroidery	will be focussing on how to keep themselves safe and respect everyone around them. They will look at basic first aid skills and learn how to keep themselves safe in different situations. They will also learn about who they can speak to if they need help. Religious Education (RE) In RE, children will learn the symbols for different religions	body. We will continue practising the linguistic focus: gender, articles, plurals and adjectives. By the end of this unit, the children will be able to describe an animal and a person. Geography In Geography, the children will be learning about the environment. Children will look at the difference between count-controlled and infinite loops, and use their knowledge to modify existing animations and games using repetition. Their final project is to design and create a game which uses repetition, applying stages of programming design throughout. Art In Art, children will learn about needlework, embroidery whilst learning about the weaving artist Farrer. They will	 will be focussing on how to keep themselves safe and respect everyone around them. They will look at basic first aid skills and learn how to keep themselves safe in different situations. They will also learn about who they can speak to if they need help. Religious Education (RE) In RE, children will learn the symbols for different religions as well as looking at artwork that is important in each 	body. We will continue practising the linguistic focus: gender, articles, plurals and adjectives. By the end of this unit, the children will be able to describe an animal and a person. Geography In Geography, the children will be learning about the continent of Asia with a focus on Japan. Children will
environment. Children will look at the difference between count-controlled and infinite loops, and use their knowledge to modify existing animations and games using repetition. Their final project is to design and create a game which uses repetition, applying stages of programming design throughout. Art In Art, children will learn about needlework, embroidery whilst learning about the weaving artist Farrer. They will look at coronation robes and the wedding dress	 will be focussing on how to keep themselves safe and respect everyone around them. They will look at basic first aid skills and learn how to keep themselves safe in different situations. They will also learn about who they can speak to if they need help. Religious Education (RE) In RE, children will learn the symbols for different religions as well as looking at artwork that is important in each religion studied. Children will focus on the feelings that 	body. We will continue practising the linguistic focus: gender, articles, plurals and adjectives. By the end of this unit, the children will be able to describe an animal and a person. Geography In Geography, the children will be learning about the continent of Asia with a focus on Japan. Children will learn about its location, weather, climate, and finally
environment. Children will look at the difference between count-controlled and infinite loops, and use their knowledge to modify existing animations and games using repetition. Their final project is to design and create a game which uses repetition, applying stages of programming design throughout. Art In Art, children will learn about needlework, embroidery whilst learning about the weaving artist Farrer. They will look at coronation robes and the wedding dress belonging to the Duchess of Cambridge for inspiration.	 will be focussing on how to keep themselves safe and respect everyone around them. They will look at basic first aid skills and learn how to keep themselves safe in different situations. They will also learn about who they can speak to if they need help. Religious Education (RE) In RE, children will learn the symbols for different religions as well as looking at artwork that is important in each religion studied. Children will focus on the feelings that this art evokes and the messages it conveys about 	body. We will continue practising the linguistic focus: gender, articles, plurals and adjectives. By the end of this unit, the children will be able to describe an animal and a person.
environment. Children will look at the difference between count-controlled and infinite loops, and use their knowledge to modify existing animations and games using repetition. Their final project is to design and create a game which uses repetition, applying stages of programming design throughout. Art In Art, children will learn about needlework, embroidery whilst learning about the weaving artist Farrer. They will look at coronation robes and the wedding dress belonging to the Duchess of Cambridge for inspiration. They will practice embroidery and weaving. Children will	 will be focussing on how to keep themselves safe and respect everyone around them. They will look at basic first aid skills and learn how to keep themselves safe in different situations. They will also learn about who they can speak to if they need help. Religious Education (RE) In RE, children will learn the symbols for different religions as well as looking at artwork that is important in each religion studied. Children will focus on the feelings that this art evokes and the messages it conveys about religion, through this medium. They will produce a piece 	gender, articles, plurals and adjectives. By the end of this unit, the children will be able to describe an animal and a person.
environment. Children will look at the difference between count-controlled and infinite loops, and use their knowledge to modify existing animations and games using repetition. Their final project is to design and create a game which uses repetition, applying stages of programming design throughout. Art In Art, children will learn about needlework, embroidery whilst learning about the weaving artist Farrer. They will look at coronation robes and the wedding dress belonging to the Duchess of Cambridge for inspiration.	 will be focussing on how to keep themselves safe and respect everyone around them. They will look at basic first aid skills and learn how to keep themselves safe in different situations. They will also learn about who they can speak to if they need help. Religious Education (RE) In RE, children will learn the symbols for different religions as well as looking at artwork that is important in each religion studied. Children will focus on the feelings that this art evokes and the messages it conveys about 	body. We will continue practising the linguistic focus: gender, articles, plurals and adjectives. By the end of this unit, the children will be able to describe an animal and a person.