

Dear Parent or Guardian

My name is Paul Reynolds and I teach both guitar and piano.

Would your child be interested in learning to play an instrument? As well as the fun and enjoyment, did you know it can help in learning? Even as little as six months of piano lessons seems to improve a child's ability to learn new things, from better memory skills, maths skills, and reading skills!

I am an accomplished musician with 15 years' experience as a music teacher and over 15 working as a professional musician, with a BA Hons in Professional Musicianship. I currently teach in several schools locally, at all levels on both Piano and Guitar.

My fee for a half hour lesson is £16 and is charged for the term. If you would like to arrange lessons, or have any questions, I can be contacted at:
