Dear parent/guardian

Drumming lessons are now being offered at your child's school. Lessons are suitable for all students and are an excellent opportunity for children to discover the rewarding nature of a creative and artistic outlet whilst having fun! Lessons are professional, educational, and of course aim to be enjoyable for pupils.

About me

My name is Ryan Carter and drumming is my lifelong passion. I have years of experience performing in the local area, years of teaching experience and have achieved a distinction in the Associate of Trinity College London performance examination – a university level qualification, and It brings me great pleasure to offer drumming lessons for your child.

Lessons happen on a weekly basis and a variety of lesson plans are available.

20 minutes £9.33

30 minutes £14

I advise that new pupils should begin on 20 minutes

If you wish for your child to begin lessons then please get in contact using the details provided at the top of this letter, detailing:
