Dear Parents/Carers,

The NSPCC have a Number day yearly to raise funds for their charity and this year we have signed up for this exciting day of Maths. This event will take place on Friday 4th February - all day. All of our children will take part in mathematical activities in school throughout the day. It will start with a whole school Mathematical problem that each class will participate in and we will meet after to see the differing results from the same activity. Very competitive!

Also, during the day, the children will take part in Maths activities in class and this will include an online competition run through TT Rockstars especially for this event.

At the end of the school day there will also be a bake sale in the school hall from 2.30pm for parents and will be run by the PTA who will also be serving refreshments. All are welcome! If anyone could bake any cakes for this sale it would be very much appreciated. These should be brought to school on the morning of Friday 4th February.

The children can also come in non-uniform this day, they could come in something that is number themed if desired and a contribution of £1.00 towards the charity would be appreciated.

If you would like any further information about this event please see the link for more information on where the money goes!
