Doghaying In The Snow ~ Franz Marc's

Mill of Franz Marc's own Silesian Shepherd known as Russi. The original painting was oil on canvas painting showing the dog in the January snow near the village where they lived. Franz loved painting animals and he felt they were pure and close to God. He used the primary colours blue and yellow and their combination of green to depict the dog to the background. He used green in the snow, dog and trees to create a contrast between them. In simplicity, it kind of creates peace and harmony in the drawing.
