Remembrance Service

'We will remember them.'

Many thanks to Heather D, Jessica J, Myles M and Roan P, who went down to the Cenotaph, Memorial Gardens which is at the side of Kirkburton Church, to join in the act of Remembrance on Friday 10th November. A wreath was laid on behalf of pupils and staff at our school. Miss Kaye played the Last Post and Reveille.

Prior to the Remembrance service in school, pupils learned about who, how and why we remember on 11th November. The learned about how the first world war started and how it ended. The service in school included two heartfelt readings from year 8 pupils, Gray B in 8B and Scarlett R in 8E. All pupils participated respectfully in the 2-minute silence and were incredibly well behaved.

History News

We were delighted to receive so many entries in October for our very first House competition. This was a competition to highlight Black History Month and pupils were asked to submit poems on the theme of 'Saluting our Sisters'. This competition was introduced by members of History Club in assemblies where they spoke about black women, past and present, who have made a difference to society.

Congratulations and very well done to our winners...

History Club

History Club continues to run on Fridays every week. So far this year we have had sessions on Black History Month, the Atomic bomb, the Pendle Witch Trials and have just begun to research the history of our new houses – Moxon, Carter and Booth in more detail. New members always welcome!

Science News

Science club last year had the exciting opportunity to send some experiments to space as part of the Thales Future Martians, MARSBalloon Project. One of the experiments we sent were a selection of plant seeds, including sunflower, pea and runner bean. The experiments reached temperatures of -55°C and a maximum altitude of 33,021 m. Science club then took home some of the seeds over the summer, growing them into plants.

Poppy S (7B) grew her seeds and has analysed what she found out, considering carefully what could have been caused by natural variation and what could have been space! Poppy has written a fantastic write up with her findings and we are proud of the effort she has put in to this and the enthusiasm she has shown. Well done Poppy! When comparing Poppy's results with the other observations, it is starting to appear there may be something to this space idea, with everyone finding that their seeds that had been to space growing faster and taller!

So far this year, science club have explored a variety of different activities from a heart dissection on World Heart Day, periscopes to help us see round corners and even started exploring the wonderful world of witchcraft and wizardry with sugar snakes and coloured plants.

Special Mentions

Well done to Rosie N, 6B.

Rosie is an acro gymnast at Wakefield gymnastics club and trains 5 times a week.

She recently competed at the Yorkshire Championships with a new partnership and at a remarkably high grade. The girls came fourth just missing the podium by 0.1.

Rosie is fundraising for her first international competition in Las Vegas in April.
