The percentage noted is derived from a direct comparison between the actual grades achieved in the summer examinations and the predicted grades administered and generated by Cambridge University's Centre for Education (CEM) testing in school.

Benchmarking in this way offers a fairer indication of how well our pupils performed in their exams. Focusing solely on final exams often overlooks the significant progress made by pupils, with their teachers help, throughout the journey.

To obtain these, our pupils undertake YELLIS tests at the start of Key Stage 4 and ALIS tests at the start of Key Stage 5. These CEM tests generate predicted grades across the subjects.
