3rd April 2020

I must start with a heartfelt thank you to all our parents for their continued support and positivity during such challenging times. It is amazing how you are managing to juggle working from home with giving your children lovely experiences too, despite the anxiety many of us are feeling.

It really has been uplifting to see the range of activities you've been completing at home. Thank you so much for sending photos in. We have been adding them into our 'news' section on our school website and also some to our Facebook page.

Today, we should have been breaking up for the Easter holidays, and therefore we strongly recommend that you let your children take a break from school work for the fortnight. Hopefully, this will give both you and the children an opportunity to relax a little more. Class teachers will be in touch after the holidays with regards to your child's home learning.

It is hard to believe that our Facebook page has only been up and running for a week. Thank you for engaging with it so well as it really does help us to feel that we are together as a school community. The 'Book at Bedtimes' have proved particularly popular and we will be continuing these over the holidays. We might even add some outtakes of the recordings that went wrong for a little light entertainment!

Just a reminder that our Facebook page is currently an 'open account' and whilst you are welcome to respond to some of the added challenges with photographs, you should be aware that these will be open to public view in the UK. Also, please note, as our children are not old enough to have a Facebook account, it has been set up for parents use only and anything shared should be under parental supervision.

Although we are recommending that Easter is free from school work, we will be setting Easter related challenges for those who may need a distraction. These are optional and will be added to the website and Facebook page. Do feel free to upload photos in response to these challenges directly onto the Facebook page, or alternatively can send them to us via messenger.

Finally, during these challenging times, if you are feeling anxious, need support or someone to talk to, please email head@kirkhamwesham.lancs.sch.uk or message us via Facebook Messenger and we will ensure that someone from school contacts you.

On behalf of all the Governors and staff, I wish you a Happy Easter and hope that you all stay safe and well.

Best wishes and thank you for your continued support,

Rhiannon Jones
