

		Autumn 1	Autumn 2	Spring 1	Spring 2	Summer 1	Summer 2
Year 12	Prescribed and Optional area of study: Rambert 1966-2002, Development of American Jazz Dance 1940-75 Dance Technique, performance studies, choreographic practice	Foundation Study This opening unit introduces foundation content to develop knowledge and key skills within the areas of technique, performance, solo choreography, and critical engagement. Students' practical learning will be linked to the compulsory area of study: Rambert Dance Company 1966-2002, to provide a holistic approach to both the practical and written work. Students will be assessed at the end of the first October half term using the specification criteria to set targets for each component area to facilitate progress using the student tracker	Unit 2 This second unit develops content to extend knowledge and skills within the areas of technique, performance, solo choreography, and critical engagement Students' practical work will continue to be linked to the compulsory area of study: Rambert 1966-2002 Richard Alston, to provide a holistic approach to both the practical and written work. Theoretical study will introduce Glen Tetley (Rambert) and the context of American Theatrical Jazz Dance – Jack Cole/Jerome Robbins. Students will be assessed practically at the end of the unit using the specification criteria. Foundation targets will be reviewed to measure progress and improvement using the student tracker.	Unit 3 This third unit focuses on the optional area of study of American Jazz 1940-75 through practical and theoretical study whilst continuing to consolidate students' understanding of the first named practitioner Glen Tetley, Rambert Dance Company 1966-2002. Technique, performance work and choreography will focus on the study of Jazz and the stylistic attributes of Bob Fosse in support of the practitioner's contribution to this genre. Students will be assessed theoretically at the start of the unit on the context of both Rambert and American Jazz. Completed practical work will be assessed using the specification criteria. Targets will be reviewed and discussed via tutorials following the Trial One examination.	Unit 4 This fourth unit focuses on preparing students for their live Dance Festival assessment in performance and introduces the students to introductory workshops and the planning of the duet choreography for their Trail 2 examination in June. The students will learn their first Solo Set Dance for Component One in the style of the prescribed named practitioner Jerome Robbins. Analysis into the contribution of Bob Fosse to the development of American Modern Jazz extends and contextualises practical study. The introduction to the training and development of Richard Alston 1969-1980 as the second named practitioner will form the second part of theoretical study for the compulsory area of study Rambert.	Unit 5 This fifth unit focuses on the completion of Fosse within the optional study area: American Jazz Dance 1940-75 whilst focusing the consolidation of Alston (1969-80) and Tetley for the compulsory area of study: Rambert 1966-2002 in preparation for the Trial Two examination. Practical lessons will complete the learning of the Solo Cool set dance solo for Trial Two assessment and the completion/rehearsal of the duet choreography from a prescribed exam paper to form the second part of the practical examination. Process of review of progress Trial 1-2 will underpin tutorials and target setting for Year 13 programme of study. Discussions will reference the student tracker.	Transition Year 13 This final unit focuses on the completion of Alston's contribution to Ballet Rambert 1980-92 (Artistic Director role) within the prescribed study area, whilst contextualising the influences and training of Gene Kelly to early Modern Jazz Dance. Practical lessons will focus on the learning of a second set dance solo in the style of Christopher Bruce and workshops on large ensemble choreography to prepare for the Component 1 Paper released in 15th September (Yr13) Summer transition work will focus on the research of Christopher Bruce (Set Practitioner Rambert) and the consolidation of the contextual knowledge of the two areas of study covered in Year 12. Extension work will be expected to be fully prepared for leading a one-hour workshop on return Sept.
		Assessments		Technique Class and unseen technical combination Solo Alston style study performance	Summative assessment - development of ensemble Jazz performance and role within collaborative choreography Trial One Written Examination (Jan) Rambert and Jazz	Summative assessment - planning and development within collaborative duet choreography task	Trial Two Examinations Solo performance/duo choreography and performance

		Short solo choreography responding from prescribed visual stimulus		Live examination of Fosse performance Annual Dance Festival . Timed response - short answer/extended questions on Bob Fosse and Richard Alston	Trial Two 2 hour written examination critical engagement	knowledge of Kelly (American Jazz).
--	--	--	--	---	--	-------------------------------------

		Autumn 1	Autumn 2	Spring 1	Spring 2	Summer 1	Summer 2
		Unit 1	Unit 2	Unit 3	Unit 4	Unit 5	Examinations
Year 13	Prescribed and Optional area of study: Rambert 1966-2002, Development of American Jazz Dance 1940-75 Dance Technique, performance studies, choreographic practice	This first unit for Year 13 begins with the completion of the transitional independent choreography task whilst researching process for the Component 1 Choreography. Students will learn the final solo set dance in the style of Richard Alston and will begin to develop phrases for the Component One quartet performance. Technique classes will revisit the Cunningham technique in support of the solo set dance. Appreciation will complete Kelly influences in preparation for the associated set work Singin' in the Rain and will introduce the contextual training/influences of the set practitioner for Rambert: C. Bruce.	This second unit will revise each solo performance learned for Component One (Robbins, Bruce and Alston) of which will be performed for assessment for the Trial 1 examination. Students will co-devise the first 1:30 minutes of the quartet performance piece for formative assessment at the end of the unit. Students will experience workshops on each of the AQA prescribed questions for group choreography and will begin planning and preparing their chosen question for independent construction for the Component One examination. Theoretical study will begin focusing on the two associated set works for Rambert and American Jazz, Rooster (Bruce 1991) and Singin' in the Rain (Kelly 1952). Analysis will focus on the first half of each set work focusing on the constituent features, salient characteristic movements, and thematic development.	This third unit focuses on the completion of the quartet performance in readiness for refinement of performance and expressive skills next half term. Students will furthermore be coached within lessons and through individual tutorials on their chosen solo set dance in readiness for interim assessment and target setting in February. Choreography will continue to be prepared in lessons and constructed outside of lessons for the Component One examination. Students will attend tutorials to facilitate progress and completion of group dancers in readiness for refinement in the next unit. Within appreciation students will continue analysing and completing the content of the prescribed sections of the set works Rooster and Singin' In the Rain. American Jazz Dance will focus on the response to a range of essay questions for Section B, whilst Rooster will focus on short answer and extended questions in preparation for Section A of Component Two	This fourth unit focuses on preparing students for the Component One Examination for performance and choreography. Students will complete any remaining analysis of the two set works in preparation for the Trial 2 examination process in March. Assessment of all practical components will be externally marked by the AQA March April. The students will complete a 2 ½ hour past written Trial two paper to assess performance for the summer examinations. Performance in appreciation will be reviewed and will direct final theoretical preparations and target areas for development/improvement in the final short unit.	This final unit focuses on preparing students for the final Component Two examination: Critical Engagement. Students will focus on completing a series of timed essays and timed short answer responses which will be cross marked and reviewed in class to ascertain areas for improvement. This final area of the course will result in the completion of the terminal examination for Component Two in June.

Assessments	Formative assessment of students' choreographic independent directed task and planning for chosen prescribed AQA question . Short answer questions on Bruce's style and an essay question on Kelly's contribution to American Modern Jazz PP1 assessment of Alston's solo performance using the specification criteria	Formative assessment of students' choreographic planning for chosen prescribed AQA question. 2 ½ hr written paper Trial One exam Trial One assessment of chosen solo performance using the specification criteria.	Interim assessment of students' development of quartet and chosen Solo performance. Formative assessment and target setting of completed group choreography. Timed conditions response to short answer/extended questions on Rooster. Assessed essay for Singin' in the Rain (Component Two)	Component One AQA External Examination Performance and choreography March/April Trial Two examination March – Component Two Past paper Sections A and	Peer Assessment/green pen marking Component Two External Examination Critical Engagement (June)		