Key Learning

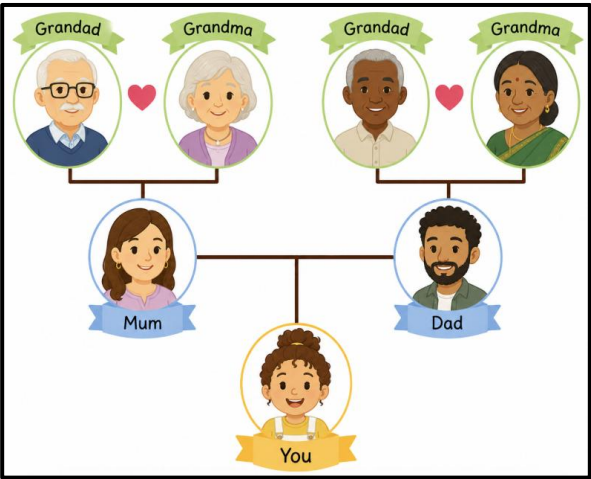

What is living memory and who can tell us about the past?

How have toys changed over time?

How was life different for our grandparents?

How has our school changed over time?

Has our local area changed since our grandparents were young?

The Big Question

What was life like when my grandparents were little?

Visual Vocabulary

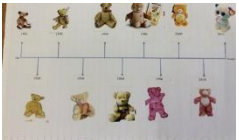

Toys have always been used by children to play with.

This is our school Linaker Primary School. It has been a primary school since the 1960's. This is over 60 years!

A grandparent is your grandma, grandad, nanny, grandpa or another special name for the parent of your mum or dad.

A timeline helps us see what happened first, next and last. It can show us how much things have changed from the past to present.
