Key Learning in Reading

What is Key Learning in Reading?

The Key Learning in Reading statements relate to the age appropriate reading skills, knowledge and understanding for each year group. These key pieces of learning will support pupils in becoming effective and reflective independent readers.

Where have they come from?

The Key Learning statements have been identified primarily from the National Curriculum 2014 programmes of study. Other key documents cross referenced in their preparation include the Early Years Foundation Stage documents and Lancashire Assessment and Progression in Reading.

How are they different from the National Curriculum programmes of study?

The aim was to specify the key learning in reading for each year group, rather than age-phases in Key Stage 2. Further details have also been added to clarify and exemplify the statements in the programmes of study.

How might Key Learning in Reading be useful?

The Key Learning statements should help to focus whole class teaching and could be considered as unit objectives. Taught in the context of lively, engaging and creative units of work, they help to ensure that pupils make progress as readers. Teaching should ensure that skills are modelled and scaffolded and that pupils are given opportunities to apply them in a range of different contexts. Regular teaching of skills would normally take place through a combination of lively, engaging shared reading, focused, needs-based guided reading and the daily read-aloud programme. The texts used should be high quality, interesting, engaging and fascinating. Texts from a wide range of genres and authors should be read. Reading skills should be regularly applied across the curriculum.

Why are the Key Learning in Reading statements not levelled?

The key skills are age appropriate and are therefore particularly suited to supporting whole class teaching. Levelled statements, useful for supporting next steps teaching for groups (including guided reading) can be found in Lancashire Assessment and Progression in Reading and Children's Targets for Reading.

- Inferring characters feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, justifying inferences with evidence e.g. Point + Evidence + Explanation
- Predicting what might happen from information stated and implied
- Re-read and reads ahead to locate clues to support understanding and justifying with evidence from the text
- Scanning for key information e.g. looking for descriptive words associated with a setting
- Skimming for gist
- Using a combination of skimming, scanning and close reading across a text to locate specific detail
- Identifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning e.g. persuasive leaflet, balanced argument

Discuss and evaluate how authors use language including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader

- Exploring, recognising and using the terms personification, analogy, style and effect
- Explaining the effect on the reader of the authors' choice of language and reasons why the author may have selected these

Distinguish between statements of fact or opinion across a range of texts e.g. first-hand account of an event compared with a reported example such as Samuel Pepys' diary and a history textbook

Participate in discussions about books building on their own and others' ideas and challenging views courteously

Explain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes where necessary

- Preparing formal presentations individually or in groups
- Using notes to support presentation of information
- Responding to questions generated by a presentation
- Participating in debates on issues related to reading (fiction/non-fiction)

Provide reasoned justifications for their views

- Justifying opinions and elaborating by referring to the text e.g. Point + Evidence + Explanation
