The Equality Act 2010: The Equality Duty

The Trust has a duty to consider the needs of all individuals in our day-to-day work – in shaping policy, in delivering services and in relation to our employees. The Equality Duty has three aims, which require the Trust to have due regard to the need to:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct prohibited by the Act;
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it; and
- Foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.

Does the policy support the aims of the Equality Duty?	Yes	x	No		N/A
If no, please state which groups may be affected and complete a full equalities impact assessment (guidance and forms available on the intranet)

1 Introduction

- 1.1. As an organisation, the Trust is subject to requirements set out in legislation and monitored by the Information Commissioner's Office under the EU's General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018.
- 1.2. As a public authority, the Trust is also subject to requirements set out in legislation and monitored by the Information Commissioner's Office under the Freedom of Information Act 2000.
- 1.3. The Trust is registered with the Information Commissioner's Office as a Data Controller (registration reference Z4694881). A copy of the register entry can be viewed at the Information Commissioner's Office website at www.ico.org.uk.
- 1.4. Under the EU's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) the data protection principles set out the main responsibilities which the Trust must comply with. Article 5 of the GDPR requires that personal data shall be:
 - a) Processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner in relation to individuals;
 - b) Collected for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes and not further processed in a manner that is incompatible with those purposes; further rprocessing for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes shall not be considered to be incompatible with the initial purposes;
 - c) Adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary in relation to the purposes for which they are processed;
 - d) Accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date; every reasonable step must be taken to ensure that personal dta that are inaccurate, having regard to the purposes for which they are processd, are erased or recitified without delay;
 - e) Kept in a form which permits identification of data subjects for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the personal data are processed; personal data may be stored for longer periods insofar as the personal data will be processed solely for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes subject to implementation of the appropriate technical and organsnisational measures required by the GDPR in order to safeguard the rights and freedoms of individuals; and
 - f) Processed in a manner that ensures appropriate security of the personal data, including proptection against unauthorised or unlawful processing and against accidental loss, destruction or damage, using appropriate technical or organisational measures."
- 1.5. The Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires that the Trust provide general access to some classes of information through a publication scheme, and provides any person with the right to make a request for information not already published or protected by exemption (for example, personal information protected under the Data Protection Act). The Act also sets out procedures for dealing with requests, such as time limits for compliance and fees which may be charged.

2 Our Commitment

- 2.1. The Trust is committed to the principles of the Freedom of Information Act 2000. The Information Commissioner's Office have produced an extensive selection of documents to support organisations, and the Trust will make reference to the following in meeting our
