Quick Facts

We all enjoy our favourite songs and nursery rhymes.

In Sikh tradition, Guru Nanak had an extraordinary experience which inspired him to write songs to praise God.

Many of these songs can be found in the Guru Granth Sahib. This book is treated with respect. It is kept in the Gurdwara and during the day it sits on a special stand.

When the parents of a new baby want to find a name for their child, the Holy Book is opened at random. The first letter of the first word on the left-hand page will be the first letter of the child's name chosen by the parents.
