The Curriculum

Our unique curriculum design and curriculum approach considers our local context and our pupils' particular needs. Our curriculum should enable our children to:

- build strong, knowledge-based semantic memories, store them in their long-term memory and be able to retrieve and use them as a situation arises.
- make strong connections within their learning that are durable and transferrable between contexts.
- think creatively and critically.
- innovate, solve problems and generate solutions.
- develop strong analytical skills.
- become emotionally literate and morally responsible citizens.

Subjects are taught through engaging topic contexts where possible, to inspire the children. All subjects will be taught in classes with appropriate differentiation in place and support where needed.

At times, some children may be identified to work in intervention groups to further support their learning.

If you require any support or advice with attendance and punctuality, please contact the main office to arrange an appointment to see Mrs. McGrail, our Pastoral Care Worker.

We do not authorise holidays during term times except in exceptional circumstances and this is at the sole discretion of the headteacher. Details of this and of information in relation to issuing of fines and other processes that are initiated as a result of unauthorised absence are found in our policy, which is currently in draft form ahead of ratification from school governorship.

Children and young people today are using the immense power of digital media to explore, connect, create and learn in ways never imagined. With this power, young people have extraordinary opportunities, and yet they face many potential pitfalls.

What can you do to keep your children safe?

You don't need to be an expert on the internet to help keep your child safe online. The best advice is to keep children's internet usage open and honest between them and yourselves.

If you are concerned with your child's safety online however please talk to them about it.

Do some research: saferinternet.org.uk; NSPCC.co.uk

Talk to us, or our E-Safety Leader (Mrs Foster) and share your concerns and we can work together to support your child and yourselves.

Communication

The class teacher or a member of school staff will always be available to welcome children into school each morning. You can mention brief messages to them during this time. However, in-depth discussions will need a meeting to be arranged via the school office.

You can either pop to the office to arrange an appointment, or email our team on office@lmpsdorset.co.uk and someone will get back to you. Both telephone conversations and face to face meetings can be arranged. Alternatively, you can email the class teacher on:

dragonfly@lmpsdorset.co.uk

butterfly@lmpsdorset.co.uk

Finally...

We are extremely excited to start the new year with your children, and we aim to make it as fun and enjoyable for them as possible. We have already had such a positive start with the children and look forward to the year ahead 😊.

Thank you in advance for your continued support.

Mr Taylor and Miss Grant
