• JamfParent App

We would like to make you aware of Jamf Parent, an app that allows you to manage and guide how a student uses their school-issued iPad outside school hours, giving parents limited but helpful controls to support responsible device use at home. We have had the app under test by a small number of parents for some time. It has recently significantly improved and has new support videos on YouTube.

✓ What Parents Can Do

- Pause or block apps
Parents can temporarily disable specific apps (e.g., games or social media) so the student can focus on homework or family time.
- Set device restrictions.
They can limit features such as the camera or Safari if appropriate.
- Schedule downtime
Allows setting time periods when the iPad cannot be used fully (e.g., bedtime).

🔒 What Parents Cannot Do

- They cannot see school data, student work, messages, or personal content.
- They cannot install apps - only the school can do that.
- All controls operate within limits set by the school’s IT team.

✖ How It Works

- The student iPad has a QR code in the Jamf Student app.
- Parents scan it using the Jamf Parent app to link the student’s iPad.
- Controls apply only between 3:15pm and 8:30am weekdays and during weekends.

Unfortunately, the school cannot offer any support with using the application. Please refer to the many online help videos and articles. Here is the latest 'How To' video from Jamf.
