

Pre-school Newsletter

Our topic will continue with Minibeasts. This week the children will create an observational painting of an minibeasts. They will use the books from the school library so they children can identify their features and select the correct colour paint to create their artwork.

Learning intentions linked to class subject.

- Select tools and experiment with colour, texture, and design;
- Develop their own ideas by shaping materials and putting together components to create a habitat;
- Discuss their work, introduce new vocabulary linked to class topic.

The letter sound for the week will be 'T', we look forward to seeing your children's creations as we use their work at circle time on a Thursday to promote speech sounds.

Lastly, Mrs. Reynolds our Nursery Room Leader has given birth to a beautiful baby girl named River.
