What to do	Knowledge has a beginning but it has no end. In order to agree or disagree we will improve our general knowledge this week. You need to pick something that you want to learn about eg countries, a time in history, scientific understanding, nature etc. Now record some questions, things you want to find out. Record these on the record sheet.	Read your questions from yesterday. Use a search engine such as Google to find the answers to your questions. Write the information you find on the right hand side of the questions. You can use notes. Repeat until you have answered all of your questions. Eg Google – how is a rainbow made How is a cloud formed?	Today you need to use the notes you made to produce fact sheet. For example let's say you researched rainbows. My title my be How are rainbows formed? Have you ever wondered how a rainbow is formed? SEE WAGOLL EXAMPLE OF A REPORT	Today either: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Finish your factsheet. OR <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 2. Complete another fact sheet. 	Start by checking ALL spellings carefully. Read a sentence at a time, check there are no words missing, in the wrong order etc.
Possible questions	What are you interested in? What do you want to find out? What are your questions?	How can I use Google effectively? How do I find the correct information? Am I learning anything new?	How can I set out my report? Do I need pictures? Do I need a title and sub titles? Should I ask the reader a question?	How can I make it interesting to read? What will my reader want to know? How does my report look? Does it need anything else?	Can I improve my sentence starters? Can you add diagrams? Is your title clear? Do you need to produce a final draft?
